BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

JANUARY 1, 1866.

The following ANNUAL MESSAGE of his Honor the Mayor was received, ordered to be printed at length in the Minutes, and the usual number of copies printed in document form.

D. T. VALENTINE,

Clerk.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, }
CITY OF NEW YORK, January 1, 1866. }

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—I enter this day upon the discharge of the duties of my high office, duly impressed with a sense of the responsibilities connected with it, and of my utter powerlessness, under the laws now in force, to accomplish any great good for the city which has chosen me for its Chief Executive Officer.

The Legislature of the State has divested the Mayor of New York of much of the power which of right belongs, and ever should belong, to him; and until that power shall be restored, the people must not complain if successive administrations shall prove to be failures, and the municipal government continue to be weak and inefficient.

Conscious, however, of the rectitude of my own intentions, and trusting in God, the guide and ruler of us all, I begin my duties with the determination to use the little power I have, and to exert all my abilities and energies in the great work before me, in an earnest effort to do the best I can for the advancement of the interests of the people of this great metropolis. In this work I sincerely hope I shall have your co-operation. It is by law the duty of the Mayor to communicate to the Common Council, at least once a year, a general statement of the situation and condition of the city in relation to its government, finances and improvements; and I now communicate with you, and through you with my fellow-citizens, in obedience to the requirements of the law.

THE CITY AND ITS GOVERNMENT.

The growth and prosperity of this city are beyond parallel. Its resources are immense. Population and wealth are pouring into it from all parts of the world. The rich country which surrounds it contributes incessantly to its progress and advancement, and before many years the whole island on which it is situated will be crowded with an active and energetic people.

Such a city deserves, and should have, one of the best charters, and one of the strongest municipal governments, which can be given by the legislative power of the State. What that charter should be, and what action the Legislature should take, in reference to our local affairs, this is not the time to discuss, but in view of the present public agitation of that subject, I feel bound to state two propositions which it is clear to me should never be lost sight of, and should be vigorously adhered to:

1st. The city should be permitted to choose its own officers, carry on its own government, and manage its own affairs. Its chartered rights should be preserved, its privileges maintained, and never, under any circumstances, should the State Legislature attempt to saddle upon it a commission to govern and control it.

2d. Its Mayor should be clothed with power commensurate with his responsibilities. A concentration of power and of responsibility should be the end and aim of all legislation relating to its government. It is the division of power and the division of responsibility which causes all or nearly all of our municipal evils; and the sooner this great truth is universally recognized and acted upon, the better for the common interest of us all.

THE DEBT OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

The funded debt of the city on December 22, 1865, was twenty-nine millions nine hundred and thirty-two thousand five hundred and seventy-six dollars and fifty cents ($29,932,576.50), and of the county, eleven millions three hundred and thirty-three thousand and four hundred dollars ($11,333,400), making an aggregate of forty-one millions two hundred and sixty-five thousand nine hundred and seventy-six dollars and fifty cents ($41,265,976.50), of which amount the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund hold nine millions five hundred and eight thousand one hundred and one dollars ($9,508,101), leaving a net indebtedness of thirty-one millions seven hundred and fifty-seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five dollars and fifty cents ($31,757,875.50).

In addition to this, there was, on December 23, 1865, a temporary debt of four millions six hundred and ninety-three thousand three hundred dollars ($4,693,300), to meet which the city and county hold sufficient assets in the shape of assessment liens, unpaid taxes, and cash, and the whole temporary debt will, of course, be rapidly extinguished.

The following statement, prepared at my request by the Finance Department, shows in detail the items making the aggregate of the funded and temporary debt, and the various purposes for which it has been incurred. It shows, also, how much is payable from the Sinking Fund, and how much from taxation, and you will perceive that of the whole amount the large sum of fourteen millions three hundred and thirty-nine thousand nine hundred dollars ($14,339,900) has been incurred for expenses growing out of and connected with the war now so happily ended, and nearly twenty millions ($20,000,000) for the Croton Water Works and Central Park.

I have deemed this statement important in order that the people of this city and State might see at a glance, and understand, just what the debt is, and the purposes for which it has been created, and how it is divided. The limits of this communication will not permit me to speak more particularly of its details.

Large as this debt appears, it is amply secured. The interest on so much of it as is payable from the Sinking Fund is more than met by the revenues especially set apart for that purpose. These revenues yield a large annual surplus, a portion of which is by law annually transferred to the "General Fund," and calculation has shown that the accumulations of the Sinking Fund will be ample to pay the principal of the debt long before its maturity.

The whole debt is, in fact, secured by the entire property of the city, public and private, and in my judgment the world offers no better security for investment than the public stocks of the city and county of New York.

The market value of some of those stocks is below par. This is attributable to two causes :

1st. The public securities of the United States yield a greater rate of interest, and are exempt from local taxation ; and

2d. There has been a growing distrust in the management of our municipal and county affairs.

This distrust you and I must do all we can to remove, and let us confidently hope for success in our efforts.

Economy in administration, and a judicious management of city property and revenues, will make our securities as popular as they are safe.

THE REAL ESTATE OF THE CITY.

I have been unable to obtain any accurate statement of the real estate (improved and unimproved) belonging to the city. Such a statement, however, will soon be prepared, under the direction of the Comptroller.

Meanwhile, in view of the present comparative high prices of unimproved real estate, and the present low prices of city securities, I would suggest the propriety, under the direction of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, of a judicious sale at public auction of large portions of the unimproved real estate of the city, and the application of the proceeds to the purchase of the city securities for the account of the Sinking Fund. Such a course seems to me eminently proper, and I hope it will be followed. The unimproved real estate yields no revenues. It would sell for large prices. It would, after passing into private hands, be improved, and add considerably to the amount of taxable property, and the proceeds of sales would enable the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to purchase a very considerable amount of the city securities. At the same time, the market value of those securities would be considerably enhanced.

I am not prepared, as some of my predecessors have done, to recommend the sale of the markets, wharves, piers, and ferry franchises belonging to the city, believing, as I now do, that the city should continue to own and control them; and that, by judicious management, they can all be made to yield greatly increased revenues.

TAXES.

The tax levy for 1865 amounted to the enormous sum of eighteen million two hundred and three thousand nine hundred and fifty-two dollars eighty-six cents ($18,203,952.86), being nearly three per cent. on the assessed valuation of the real and personal property of our citizens. It is proper, however, that I should state that from the best information I can obtain, while the rate of taxation here is higher than in the other large cities of our country, the valuation of property for the purpose of taxation, compared with its actual market value, is much lower here than it is in those cities. As there is a very general impression that this enormous tax levy of 1865 is chargeable altogether upon our county and municipal government, and as this impression is erroneous, I have caused to be prepared a statement showing the amounts levied for State, city, and county purposes, respectively, and how much of this immense expenditure has been incurred by direction of the State Legislature and of the Commissions created by it (over which neither the Board of Supervisors nor the Common Council have any control), how much is for expenses arising out of and connected with the war, and how much has been incurred directly by the Board of Supervisors and by the Common Council, and for which they are justly responsible.

The following is the statement to which I ask your careful attention, and which will, I hope, receive the thoughtful consideration of the tax-payers of New York :

It will be perceived at a glance that of the whole sum of eighteen millions two hundred and three thousand nine hundred and fifty-two dollars and eighty-six cents ($18,203,952.86), over three millions ($3,000,000) is for the use of the State ; over seven millions ($7,000,000) are expended by direction of the Legislature, and by the various commissions which are independent of city or county government, and nearly one and a half millions for interest on Riot Bonds and Family Aid and War Bonds, and for the redemption of such of those bonds as have matured. Of the whole levy of eighteen millions two hundred and three thousand nine hundred and fifty-two dollars and eighty-six cents ($18,203,952.86), the city and county government is responsible only for about eight millions ($8,000,000), and of the eight millions ($8,000,000) about one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) was for necessary expenses incident to the war. I speak in round numbers. The precise figures can be ascertained by examination of the preceding statement :

Among the items of increase entirely beyond the control of the City or County Government will be noticed as follows, viz.: for the State, two hundred and eighty-six thousand nine hundred and twenty dollars and seventy cents ($286,920.70), for the Police, one hundred and eighty-seven thousand and ten dollars eighty-nine cents ($187,010.89), Census, fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), Harlem Bridge, two hundred and thirty-six thousand four hundred and ninety-four dollars ($236,494), Board of Education, five hundred and two thousand, eight hundred and seventy-seven dollars and thirty cents ($502,877.30), Metropolitan Fire Department, six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000), Public Charities and Correction, two hundred and eighty-eight thousand four hundred and fifty dollars ($288,450), interest on Central Park Debt, thirty-two thousand six hundred and fifteen dollars and fifteen cents (32,615.15), amounting in all to over two millions ($2,000,000), and there is an additional item of four hundred and twenty-nine thousand five hundred and twenty-nine dollars and sixty-one cents ($429,529.61) for increased interest on the County War Debt, and seven hundred and sixty-two thousand nine hundred and six dollars and nine cents ($762,906.09) for redemption of City Debt.

There has also been a great increase in the general expenses of the county and city.

Very much of the entire increase of the tax levy, over that of 1864, has grown out of the necessities and peculiarities of the times—and due allowances must be made therefor. It cannot be expected that the expenses of the city and county and State will remain stationary, when those of every individual are nearly if not quite doubled. Salaries have been largely increased, and the value of labor and of every article employed and used for city and county purposes has been greatly enhanced.

There is great room, however, for improvement. One great evil of the present times is private and public extravagance. Every private and public interest demands that it should be checked, and I urge upon you, and upon every department of the City and County Government, and upon all the Commissions which are acting independent of either, to reduce their expenditures to the lowest possible standard. Let contraction, and not expansion, be the order of the day.

I am happy to say that the Comptroller of the city informs me that he is confident the tax levy for 1866 will be at least three millions of dollars less than it was for 1865.

To this end let us all contribute by every exertion and sacrifice.

COMPARISON OF TAX LEVIES, 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865.

Before leaving the subject of finance, I beg leave to call attention to a comparative statement of the tax levies for 1861-'2-'3-'4-'5, a glance at which will show the increase in various items, and who is responsible for it.

It needs no explanation, except in the item of one million seven hundred and twenty-one thousand six hundred and ninety-one dollars thirty-three cents ($1,721,691.33), City Expenditures for 1862. These expenditures were reduced to this apparent figure, because for that year a large accumulation of moneys belonging to the fund for payment of interest on the City Debt was, by law, transferred to the general fund, and to that extent diminished the amount necessary to be raised by taxation for city expenditures during that year.

An examination of this statement will also show that the State takes more than a million of dollars in 1865 in excess of 1861. That more than three millions (including interest on Central Park Debt) was expended in 1865 in excess of 1861 by direct authority of the Legislature, and of various Boards and Commissions which are independent of either the City or County Government; and that, of the residue of the increase over 1861, nearly a million and a half is for interest on and redemption of debt incurred by reason of the war.

I have dwelt thus at large upon the subject of the public debt and the tax levy, because they are all-important, and engross the public attention. It is not only right, but necessary, that they should be thoroughly understood, and that every citizen should be able to examine for himself, and see who really is responsible for the immense expenditure of the public moneys. The facts reach the public eye in this way more readily than in any other, and if I have aided in informing the public mind, and can draw from intelligent men suggestions of practical importance, I shall have secured my object.

THE PUBLIC PROPERTY AND IMPROVEMENTS.

New York can point, with pride, to its Croton Aqueduct and Reservoirs, its Central Park, and its public buildings connected with and under the charge of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, as well as those under the charge of the Board of Education. The Aqueduct is not only a source of pride, of comfort, and of health, but the revenues derived from it more than pay the interest on the cost of its construction. I believe these can be greatly increased whenever, by a system of close observation and taxation, the public can be made to pay for what they waste as well as for what they use.

The Central Park is one of those great public improvements demanded by the spirit of the age, and contributes greatly to the comfort and happiness of all our citizens. It yields no revenue, but, like all other great public improvements, contributes to the power and prosperity of the city, of which it is so great an ornament.

Our ample public charities, and the edifices from which they are dispensed, are admirable, and it is much to be regretted that the mass of our citizens have so little knowledge of their extent, or of their excellence. If the people of our city would take more pains to visit and inspect them, and to learn how much misery they relieve, and how much good they accomplish, they would not complain of the expenditures which are necessary to their maintenance and support.

The workings of our public school system, under the control of the Board of Education, are well understood. The system is, however, susceptible of great improvement. The expenditures are very great, and, it is generally believed, might be considerably reduced without prejudice to the cause of education.

WHARVES AND PIERS, AND MARKETS.

These present a striking contrast to the objects to which I have just alluded. New York, the great commercial city of this continent, has not a single wharf or pier which is not a disgrace to it.

The revenues from these wharves and piers are pledged to the Sinking Fund for the payment of interest on the city debt. They yielded, in 1864, a revenue of less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and not much more in 1865, and two hundred thousand dollars was raised by taxation, in 1865, for repairs.

The Legislature, last winter, passed an act incorporating the "New York Iron Pier and Warehouse Company," and authorized the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, with the consent of the Commissioners of the Land Office, to lease or grant to the Company any number of piers not exceeding six, upon which the Company might construct iron piers and warehouses, according to certain plans submitted; such lease or grant to be made upon such terms and conditions as the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund should deem proper; and the act gave to the Company constructing such piers all fees for wharfage and dockage.

By virtue of my office of Recorder of the city, I was one of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund.

The Company applied to the Commissioners for a grant or lease of several piers upon a merely nominal consideration. The application was not granted. Application was then made for a lease for fifty years at a rental to be agreed upon, but it was urged that that rental should be very small, because the net revenues of the piers were now so trifling. The Commissioners, at my request, concluded to take no action in the premises until after I should make this communication to you. The structures which the Company propose to erect would, I think, be greatly ornamental and beneficial to the city, and I should be glad to see such improvements made by private enterprise, if it could be done without prejudice to the rights of the city and the holders of its securities. But it has always seemed clear to me that all our wharves and piers should be held and controlled by ourselves, that the improvements thereon should be public improvements, made at public expense, and that all the revenues therefrom should go into the public treasury, and not into the coffers of private corporations. Properly improved and managed, and with reasonably increased fees for wharfage, they can be made to yield a revenue not only sufficient to pay the interest on the cost of improvement, but eventually to pay the whole of such cost.

Whether the present is the time to inaugurate so great a work, and who should be charged with its execution, are serious questions. Whether it would be well, under a lease at a fair rental, and with proper covenants and restrictions, to allow the company named to use and occupy two or three piers, as an experiment, is also a serious question, demanding serious consideration.

As these questions are such as demand especial attention from the great commercial interest of New York, I will not now make any suggestions, except to recommend that the Chamber of Commerce be invited to appoint a Committee to confer with the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund upon the whole subject, and to agree if possible upon some plan which will not only advance public interests, but command public confidence and respect.

In regard to the Markets, I can only say that I hope before long action will be taken which will result in the removal of the miserable structures which now disgrace the city, and the erection of new ones, which, while they will be an ornament and a credit to the city, will yield a revenue which will not only pay the interest on the cost of construction, but will ultimately pay the whole of such cost.

STREET CLEANING.

During the past year, under authority of the Legislature, a contract was entered into with Messrs. Brown, Devoe & Knapp for sweeping and cleaning the streets of the city for a little less than $500,000 a year for ten years. The amount is less than half the sum expended annually to do the same work before the contract was made. There has been some criticism upon the contract, and upon those who made it in behalf of the city. I will only say that the contract price is not unreasonable, and that the provisions of the contract were carefully prepared and are ample to secure clean streets, if the contractors do their duty and the citizens aid them as they should do, instead of embarrassing them in their operations.

If the contractors fail to do their duty, their contract must be broken and their sureties held responsible. An abstract of the requirements of the contract is in the hands of every policeman, and the contractors have been requested (and have promised) to report every night to the proper police precinct the names of the streets which have been swept during the day. If this is adhered to, there can be no evasion of the work required to be done.

But in this matter the people have much to do. No contract can secure clean streets, if, as is too frequently the case, the inhabitants, almost as soon as the sweepers have passed their doors, throw the sweepings and refuse and garbage from their buildings into the public thoroughfares. There is an utter want of attention on the part of the people to their duties in this particular. And until the city ordinances in this respect are enforced, and every violation of them declared a misdemeanor, and every violator summarily arrested by the police and punished, we cannot expect any better state of things.

SANITARY MATTERS GENERALLY.

In view of the general apprehension that the cholera will make its appearance in this city during the present year, this subject assumes extraordinary importance.

The Board of Health is composed of the Mayor and Common Council. It has not been convened for a long time, and I do not now see any reason to believe it will be necessary soon to call it together.

The Board of Commissioners of Health, composed of the Mayor, City Inspector, the President of each Board of the Common Council, Health Officer, Resident Physician, and Health Commissioner, will, I have no doubt, be able to accomplish all that may be required of it.

The Legislature of the State has, during several sessions, had the general subject under consideration, and will agitate it again during the present winter, as I am informed.

What action will be then taken, I have no means of ascertaining. The whole subject has been always considered too much as a political rather than a sanitary one. I can only say to all concerned, that, in view of the (possibly) approaching pestilence, the public mind is sensitive upon the subject, and it must be considered and treated on its merits, and not with any reference to its political bearing or influence.

As a general rule, all sanitary regulations should be made police regulations. All violations of these should be declared by law to be misdemeanors. The police should be authorized to arrest summarily every person detected in any offense against them, and lock him up promptly.

A few such arrests would teach a lesson which would not be soon forgotten, either by the offender or by his neighbors.

I do not wish to be understood as intimating that all sanitary powers should be conferred upon the Police Department. Far from it. That Department should not supplant others, it should aid them, and have additional powers to enforce regulations or ordinances. Nor should any health bill be passed at Albany which would transfer to a State Commission the control and management of the sanitary interests of the city.

In the language of one of my predecessors (Mayor Opdyke) in one of his messages, "Such a bill would be an interference with municipal rights, and obnoxious on that ground."

Again, the owners and agents of crowded tenements and other large buildings should be called upon to provide proper receptacles for all their refuse and garbage, and the same should be removed daily by the contractors charged with that work.

Every police officer, and every citizen, should be vigilant in ascertaining and reporting, and (as far as possible) removing and abating, all nuisances, and sources and causes of disease, and the citizens in every Ward should organize health committees, who should, for the time being, give their aid to the work of purification.

These suggestions are not made in any spirit of alarm. It may well be that we shall escape the pestilence; but we shall the more surely do so, if every citizen can be made to realize that he is for the time being a health officer, charged with his portion of work and responsibility.

SEWERAGE.

As the health and comfort of the city depend so much upon effective sewerage, it is proper I should say a word on this subject. With greater natural advantages than almost any city in the world, we have the very worst arrangement of sewers. A change for the better is, I am glad to say, at hand. The Chief Engineer of the Croton Board has repeatedly called attention to this subject, and under the provisions of recent legislative acts plans are now in progress for a system of sewerage which will be a credit to the city.

GRADING AND PAVING OF STREETS AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

It is not alone in the tax levy that the owners of real estate and tax-payers generally are interested. They are called upon to pay, and do pay, very heavy assessments for the regulating, paving, and grading of streets and sidewalks, laying curbs and gutters and crosswalks, filling sunken lots, &c. Of course a great portion of these expenses is necessary and unavoidable. But my observation has taught me that in many cases the expenses of surveys, inspection, advertising, collecting, &c., make up one-third and sometimes one-half of the aggregate amount of the whole assessment.

By proper attention, these items of expense might be greatly reduced; and I recommend a careful examination and revision of the ordinances relating thereto. It is a serious evil, and demands prompt attention.

I can suggest to a Committee of the Common Council at any time the name of a gentleman long connected with the Finance Department, whose familiarity with this subject renders him peculiarly well adapted to the revision of the ordinances relating to it, and the city could well afford to pay him a reasonable compensation to undertake and perfect the work.

CURBING AND GUTTERING OF STREETS.

The setting of curbs and gutters is under the direction and charge of the Street Department, while the Croton Department has charge of the paving of streets. The Croton Department should, for various reasons, have charge of both. The attention of the Common Council and of the Legislature has been repeatedly called to this matter, and I hope that some action will be taken in the premises this winter.

There are various other subjects to which I should be glad to invite your attention; but the limits of this Message prevent it. I can do so in future occasional communications.

It is not proper in an annual message to do more than make general statements and suggestions. The frequent reports of the various Departments of the City Government give detailed information upon all matters of public interest; and it is useless for me to make suggestions, when I have no power to enforce or carry them into execution.

THE CHARTER.

I have already suggested in the early part of this Message the two great rules which, in my judgment, should always be adhered to in all legislative movements to amend the Charter of the city of New York. To speak at length of the radical defects in our present Charter, and of the particular amendments which should be made by the Legislature, would, in this communication, be out of place and out of taste. If, during the present session of the Legislature, any action shall be taken in the premises, I shall be prepared, plainly and promptly, to state my views and recommendations to the proper committee.

It may be, however, in view of the fact that a constitutional convention will soon assemble which will determine and set at rest many vexed questions relating to municipal rights and powers, that the Legislature will not at present interfere with our Charter in any particular.

IN CONCLUSION,

Permit me to urge upon you the consideration of the fact that we are not any of us the mere representatives of a party, but of the whole city of New York: that by our united efforts we can do much to reduce the expenses of the City Government and the taxes levied for its support, and to redeem it from the reproaches which have been cast upon it—some justly, some unjustly.

Let us all remember that the possession of public office confers no honor, and brings no happiness, unless it is attended with public confidence and esteem, and with a consciousness that we have discharged our public duties well and faithfully.

Great interests are committed to your care, and great responsibilities devolve upon you. If you would command the confidence and respect of your constituents, preserve the chartered privileges of your city against all assaults, and secure to it its right to regulate and manage its own affairs. You must labor incessantly and diligently for the public good—sacrificing all private interests, and all personal considerations.

For my own part, I shall do all I can to thwart improvident legislation, to check extravagant expenditures, and to redeem the character of our local government. If I fail in accomplishing any good, it will be because the Legislature has not given, and will not give, to the Mayor of this city the powers which the chief executive officer of a great city should always have.

In the hope that you will at all times give me your earnest support, and co-operate with me in endeavoring to restore public confidence in our municipal government, I beg leave, on this opening of the new year, to offer to you individually my sincere wishes for your health, happiness, and prosperity.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN,

Mayor.

CROTON AQUEDUCT DEPARTMENT,

January 1, 1866.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of New York :

GENTLEMEN—The Croton Aqueduct Board beg leave to present their Report of the operations of this Department during the year 1865.

The different heads under which the work and expenditures are reported are the same as have been adopted in preceding years, and are as follows :

AQUEDUCT REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The general work under this head, on the line and on the outside of the aqueduct, has (excepting on the third division) been of the usual character, such as keeping the masonry of the bridges and culverts pointed up, the retaining-walls in repair, and the ditches, embankments, and slopes in the condition necessary to the preservation of the work.

On the third division we have continued the work of taking down and thoroughly rebuilding such retaining-walls as have been constructed of improper materials, or have proved too slight for the pressure against them. At the bridge which carries the aqueduct across the turnpike, where they intersect each other, about two miles above Tarrytown, it was found necessary to reconstruct the wing walls. This renewal of the masonry has proved more expensive than was estimated, but the increase in cost is owing in a great degree to the character of the new work, it being superior, both in material and workmanship, to the original structure, and also to the design of the engineer when the repairs were first contemplated. It is now nearly finished, and has cost, up to this time, $10,570.55.

At the high embankment over the André brook, a half-mile above Tarrytown, a large section of the retaining-wall on the north side has been replaced by entirely new work. The cost of this has been $6,772.86.

This renewal of retaining-walls has been postponed as long as is consistent with true economy, and the work of this character still necessary to be done along the line promises to increase very materially our expenditure in repairs for some time to come.

The annual examination and repairs of the interior of the aqueduct were made in November. The water was shut off from the conduit at Croton Dam, at 5 o'clock, P. M., November 12, and let on again at 5 o'clock, P. M., November 20, making a period of eight days, during which the city was dependent on, and received its supply from one billion two hundred million gallons stored in the reservoirs within the city limits.

The aggregate lengths of fissures or checks repaired during this time, on the inside of the aqueduct, are as follows :

On the 1st Division.....	450 feet.
“ 2d “	672 “
“ 3d “	1,770 “
“ 4th “	313 “
“ 5th “	110 “
“ 6th “	591 “
“ 7th “	108 “
“ 8th “	816 “

Total on the whole line..... 4,830 feet.

These checks are always found where the aqueduct is supported on an embankment. To facilitate the annual examinations of the interior, the embankments, as shown on the surface, have been numbered for the whole length of the line, and during the repairs this year numbers corresponding to those of the banks have been attached to the interior side-walls of the aqueduct. These interior numbers being on porcelain plates are distinct and durable and will be of great assistance in the directions given for the annual repairs, as well as in the exactness of the record as to their location.

The character of the checks found at this annual examination, as shown in the embankments where the retaining slope-walls have been recently rebuilt and made heavier and higher, were much less serious than heretofore, notwithstanding the extra pressure from an increased flow of water. This is due to the additional weight thrown upon the arch of the aqueduct by the new walls.

For the first time in many years it has not been necessary to shut off the water at some time other than that of the annual examination; to repair some dangerous leak which required immediate attention.

The following table shows the amount of fencing, stone, and earth work done in the several divisions during the year :

HIGH BRIDGE PIPE.

The interior of the wrought-iron pipe (seven feet seven inches in diameter), which is the conduit for the water over the High Bridge, has been found to be affected by rust much more rapidly than was anticipated.

It was originally covered with two coats of metallic paint, carefully put on. This has proved ineffective, small blisters of rust, similar to those usual in uncoated cast-iron pipes, having shown themselves in some parts of the pipe on the first annual examination after it was completed.

These evidences of corrosion have increased in size and frequency, and this year cover to a greater or less degree the whole interior surface.

An experiment upon a recently suggested plan for preventing rust in such cases is now in progress, and presents reasonable hopes of success.

The method is the one suggested by experiments in Europe, which seem to demonstrate its efficiency. In 1824 Sir Humphrey Davy, as shown in a lecture on the corrosion of copper and iron, delivered before the Royal Society in London, discovered the important principle that, by rendering electro-negative a metal which is electro-positive in salt water, it may be preserved from alteration within certain limits. At the request of the Lords of the Admiralty, he made many experiments on the preservation of the copper sheathing of vessels by placing zinc and iron in contact with the copper—the proportion of the surfaces of iron and zinc to the copper ranging from one-fortieth to one-thousandth. The Admiralty furnished him the means of conducting these experiments on a very large scale on the sheathing of the ships Tammarang and Cambrian Castle, the yacht Elizabeth, &c. After voyages of greater or less duration, one of which was to Calcutta, the experiments were reported to be successful, the copper having been preserved from oxydation.

In 1864, M. Becquerel, a distinguished member of the French Academy, made a report on further numerous experiments on the same principle, made by himself and brother. These experiments (in which M. Becquerel was assisted liberally by his government) were made on a very large scale in the harbor of Toulon, and in fresh water, so as to insure exactness in results; and they would seem to fully demonstrate that, if zinc be placed in contact with iron, and immersed in water, the relative surfaces of the iron and zinc bearing certain proportions to each other, the iron is kept perfectly free from oxydation. In one of the experiments 9,387 iron balls, 4.72 inches in diameter, were protected by bands of zinc whose united surfaces were equal to but 1,550 square inches. The preservation of the iron is due to the electric currents produced by bringing the two metals in contact in water. The subject belongs to the physico-chemical science, and great difficulties attend its investigation, in consequence of the numerous causes which unite in producing the alteration of metals. These causes are mechanical, physical, and chemical, all influencing the chemical action, and, consequently, the production of the electricity which gives birth to isolated voltaic couples. They each require a special investigation. In immersing zinc associated with iron in salt water, the zinc possesses the same electro-motive force as when it is not associated; but, when the immersion is in fresh water, the electro-motive force of the zinc is less when associated with iron than when it is not; still, sufficient force exists to protect large surfaces of iron compared to the zinc.

After an examination of the report of M. Becquerel, it was decided to test his process by an experiment on the large pipe. As before stated, the examination of the pipe in November showed it to be covered with blisters or tubercles. Their average size was about half an inch in diameter and a quarter of an inch in depth, and they covered, more or less closely, the entire interior surface of the pipe. About one hundred feet in length of the pipe was selected for the experiment. For this length the whole interior surface was very carefully scraped and cleaned, and on portions of it plates of pure zinc, six feet long, three and one-half inches wide, and one-quarter of an inch thick, were screwed to the pipe longitudinally for a distance of sixty feet. The remaining forty feet of the cleaned portion was left without any plates, thus affording the opportunity of comparing at some future day the part protected by the zinc and that which is not protected.

M. Becquerel found that, if the surface of the protector was one one-hundred-and-tenth part that of the iron (in fresh water), the latter was kept perfectly free from oxydation. The protectors in this pipe are a little in excess of this proportion, for reasons thought to be important.

We look forward to the result of this experiment with a strong hope of its proving that the corrosion of the pipe can be effectually and permanently checked by renewing the zinc protectors from time to time as they become destroyed by oxydation.

An important and expensive piece of work is now in progress which, although it involves the line of the aqueduct, cannot be considered under the head of repairs, while it is certainly not an improvement. It must be, therefore, spoken of under a separate head, as

CHANGE OF AQUEDUCT LINE.

An act of the Legislature, passed in April last, contained the following clause :

“ That part of the Croton Aqueduct in the city of New York, south of Ninety-second street and west of the Eighth avenue, is hereby discontinued, and the Croton Aqueduct Department is hereby authorized and directed, in their discretion, to make the necessary excavation and construct a branch aqueduct, and also sewers and drains, or to lay iron pipes from the present line of the Croton Aqueduct, at some point between the westerly line of the Eighth avenue and the new reservoir in the Central Park to the old reservoir in the said park, through the Eighth avenue and the Central Park."

The obligation to obey the law being unquestionable the work has been commenced.

Examination of the ground showed that, to meet all the requirements of the law as to the grades of streets, &c., it would be necessary to convey the water between the points designated in an inverted syphon. For this purpose, the plan adopted is to use two cast-iron pipes, each six feet in interior diameter. These pipes are to be laid from a point near the intersection of Ninetieth street with the present brick conduit, whence they will pass into and through Ninetieth street to Eighth avenue, thence down the avenue to near Eighty-fifth street, thence into the Central Park, to a point on the aqueduct a short distance west of the influent gate-house of the old Receiving Reservoir.

This line, of course, involves the necessity of three curves of short radius, and each with a deflection of ninety degrees—one of the curves being at each end of the proposed line of pipe, and the other at the intersection of Eighth avenue and Ninetieth street.

The pipes will be connected with the present conduit at either end through chambers of masonry of proper size and form.

Contracts for furnishing the pipe have been entered into with S. Fulton & Co., of Philadelphia, and with R. P. Parrott, of the West Point Foundry ; the former having a contract for 2,079 tons of six-feet pipe, total cost $153,014, the latter having a contract for 610 tons, total cost $52,395.

The contract for grading the line and laying the pipes was awarded to J. L. Brown and John Wetherell, of this city, at a total cost of $64,682. All of this work is now in progress, and including influent and effluent chambers and contingencies, will cost, when completed, about $310,081.

It is not the purpose of this Board to criticise here the propriety of the legislative act requiring this change. It has been contemplated for several years past, and was opposed by this Board, until opposition became injudicious and useless, and we can now only hope that the work thus ordered will not be made a precedent for further disturbance of the aqueduct at other points within the city limits. Such disturbance will always be expensive and prejudicial.

In the present case, it is very true that the high embankment of the aqueduct, between Eighty-fifth and Ninetieth streets, interferes materially with the grades considered proper for the intersecting streets, and if a change of any portion of the aqueduct could be justifiable it would be at this point ; but it does not appear to this Board that the expensive change in the line itself, or, in other words, the present location of the aqueduct, was called for, even though it might have been well to yield to necessary street grades by the substitution of inverted syphons in place of, but on the line of, the present conduit.

The greater part of the property affected by the embankments of the aqueduct was so affected at the time it was purchased by its present owners. So much of it as may be still in the possession of those who owned it at the time of the construction of the aqueduct was liberally paid for when purchased, and the damage, if any, to the adjacent property fairly agreed upon and settled.

Neither recent purchasers nor original proprietors, therefore, can find just excuse for asking for any change whatever in the construction of the aqueduct, on the assertion of damage to individuals' pieces of land; and where the necessary grading of a whole section of the city imperatively calls for a change, the cost should, in the opinion of this Board, be levied upon the parties benefited, and not, as in the present instance, upon the whole city, for to the city, as a whole, the change is the reverse of beneficial.

HIGH SERVICE RESERVOIRS AND WORKS AT CARMANSVILLE.

This work is still uncommenced. As stated in our last annual report, application to the Counsel to the Corporation to take the necessary legal steps for acquiring the land was made on the 26th of May, 1864. It was not until late in October of the same year that these legal proceedings were commenced.

In the early part of February, 1865, the Commissioners of Appraisal were appointed, and in ———, ———, they made their award, which award is now before the Supreme Court for confirmation.*

The continued delay in the commencement of this important and much-needed improvement is known by this Board to be so serious an injury to a large portion of our inhabitants that the Board feel it only due to themselves to say that, had the land been acquired, the work would have been commenced within three months after such authority for its prosecution was obtained.

Under the present circumstances the Board will not venture again upon any statement as to the probable time of the completion of this work.

STORAGE RESERVOIRS.

Authority for the construction of Storage Reservoirs in Westchester, Putnam, and Dutchess counties was granted by the Act of the Legislature passed April 3, 1865.

Many of the different sites which were originally selected for comparison have been carefully re-examined, and negotiations for the acquisition of the land commenced.

The final adoption of a site, and the commencement of work, has been delayed by a misunderstanding as to the terms on which a portion of the land on the site at first adopted could be procured. As the cost of the land is a material item in the cost of the whole work, it may easily be the turning point of advantage between two sites under consideration.

* On the day of the correction of the proof of this report, we have heard, for the first time, that on the 22d day of December, 1865, the Commissioners submitted their report of award to the Supreme Court, General Term, and the same was on that day duly confirmed.

Until, therefore, the negotiations for the land have been brought to some definite conclusion, no progress in actual work can be made. It is believed, however, that all the necessary preliminaries will be completed within the next month.

In this connection, it is well to add that the authority so long sought for, to build a Storage Reservoir, was not granted at all too soon for the necessities of the city. During the dry season in the summer and autumn of the past year, no water passed over the weir of Croton Dam from August 28 for forty-two days, and at one time during that period, viz., the 15th of October, the level of the water in the lake was fifty-nine inches below the lip of the weir.

NOTE.—45.05 inches of rain fell during the year at the Receiving Reservoir Station.

The apparatus for noting the evaporation is located at the old reservoir. The rain-gauges are located on the Third Division, at Sing Sing; on the Sixth Division, at Fordham; and on the Eighth Division, at the old reservoir.

The thermometrical observations are made on the First Division at the Croton Dam, and on the Third, Sixth, and Eighth Divisions as above detailed.

RECEIPTS.

The receipts of this Department are classed under the following heads of accounts, viz.:

- Water rents and penalties thereon;
- Permits for taps in water pipes;
- Permits for sewer connections;
- Permits for vault constructions; and
- Petty cash.

WATER RENTS AND PENALTIES.

The receipts for the year from these sources exhibit a large increase over those of 1864. They were as follows, viz.:

Water rents.....	$963,486 24
Penalties thereon.....	10,847 35

Total	$974,333 59

The receipts from same sources in 1864 were $907,234.27; the increase, therefore, in 1865 is $67,099.32. While this increase is in part due to the annual enlargement of the area of water distribution, and to the corresponding addition to the annual water rents, it is yet in a great degree attributable to the valuable experience gained and the vigilance exercised by the officers and clerks in the Bureau of the Water Registrar.

Schedules are appended, showing the weekly receipts in the year 1865 (Schedules Nos. 1 and 2) ; also the annual receipts from and including the year 1843 to date (Schedule No. 24), the aggregate receipts during this period being $12,563,983.76, exclusive of the annual arrearages returned to the Clerk of Arrears. .

PERMITS FOR TAPS IN WATER PIPES.

The receipts from this source are also in excess of those in 1864 ,

The total amount being.....$4,964 00

(For the weekly receipts see Schedule No. 3.)

PERMITS FOR CONNECTIONS WITH SEWERS.

There is also an increase in the receipts under this head.
The amount received was.....$16,393 30

(For the weekly receipts see Schedule No. 4.)

PERMITS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF VAULTS. .

The total amount received under this head

SEWERS—REPAIRING AND CLEANING.

Amount expended.....	49,994 66
	<hr/>
Balance.....	$2,084 13

The unexpended balance will be required in settlement of existing indebtedness under this head. The expenditure under this head is in the making of special and general repairs to sewers and their appurtenances, and in the cleansing of sewers, receiving-basins, and culverts.

The annual appropriations heretofore made under the head of "Sewers—Repairing and Cleaning" have been insufficient to permit of that thorough cleansing of the sewers which their faulty construction makes so frequently and imperatively necessary. The work of this character which has been done in each year, owing to the limited means at our disposal, has for this reason been that only which was deemed of the most pressing character, leaving to accumulate a large amount of work, which, in a sanitary view, was probably of equal importance. To provide the requisite means for the performance of this highly necessary work, which, with proper regard for the public health, could not with safety be longer deferred, an increase in the appropriation for 1865 was requested. The amount estimated for this purpose, and submitted by us to the Comptroller, was $70,000. The Legislature of 1865 sanctioned the expenditure of this sum, and in pursuance of the tax law the Board of Supervisors inserted it in the levy for the same year. The Common Council of that year made an appropriation of but $50,000, and our expenditure under this head has, in accordance with the provision of the City Charter, forbidding expenditure in excess of the appropriation, necessarily been restricted to this latter sum. No efforts on the part of this Board to induce your predecessors to make the additional appropriation have been successful.

This curtailment of the appropriation authorized by the Legislature, and which is provided for in the present Tax Levy, would be unjust in itself, and most injurious to the public interest under any circumstances, but the filthy condition of our streets makes it especially so at this time. Vast quantities of mud find its way into the basins and sewers, obstructing their efficiency, and an increase rather than a diminution in the amount of the appropriation asked for and authorized by the Legislature is demanded for immediate and pressing exigencies.

At the moment of writing this Report, although the old sewers are giving way in many directions and are subject to constantly accumulating filth, there is no money left in the hands of the Department to either repair or cleanse in any instance any of the existing sewers.

We would, on behalf of the public, respectfully, yet urgently, ask that you will take the earliest opportunity to remedy the omission of your predecessors, and furnish us with such means as will enable us to improve the sanitary condition of our present sewers.

THE NEW SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

An act of the Legislature, passed April 12, 1865, gave to this Board the authority to construct sewers on a devised system, in the place of the irregular and faulty work which has heretofore rendered our operations under this head so expensive, ineffective, and pestilential. Under this law (a copy of which is hereto appended) an efficient corps of engineers has been organized, and very creditable progress made in the much-needed work.

A large part of the city has been laid out as provided by the law, and maps of Districts Nos. 1, 1½, 2, 5, 6, 7, and 8 have been prepared, approved, and copies of the same filed with the proper departments.

Their location and extent will be seen in the table on the page following.

In these seven districts considerable work has been carried out during the latter part of the season, and the length, sizes, and locality of all the contracts completed will be found in Schedule No. 32.

Contracts have also been made on which there has been fair progress, and which will be mostly finished during the coming year.

The following table gives the gross length of all the sewers hitherto constructed in these several districts, as well as the total length of all sizes remaining to be built according to the arrangement laid down :

It will be seen from the above table that 66.11 miles of sewers are arranged to be built, 10.38 miles of which will be of brick, and act as mains, while the remainder, 55.73 miles, will be vitrified stoneware drain pipes of from twelve to eighteen inches internal diameter.

Maps are in preparation, and are mainly completed, of Districts Nos. 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13, comprising all the region lying north of Eighty-first street on the west side, and of Ninety-first street on the east side of the Central Park, and including a large part of its drainage, and extending to One Hundred and Fortieth street.

These districts contain a total area of about three thousand seven hundred and fifty acres, or five and four-fifths square miles, in which an aggregate length of seven and one-half miles of sewers have been already constructed, while about one hundred and twenty miles remain to be built.

Of these districts No. 10 will be the largest, covering the Harlem flats, and having its outlet at the foot of One Hundred and Sixth street, East river, with a total area of not less than three square miles.

General maps of all that part of the city lying below Districts Nos. 2 and 5, or south of Thirty-fourth and Twenty-eighth streets, have been completed, but the boundaries and numbers of the districts have not been yet fully determined. They will contain, however, in gross, about three thousand seven hundred and five acres, or five and three-quarters square miles, and comprise the main business portion of the city. Inasmuch as these districts are already wholly built over, their sewers have been mostly laid down, so that, out of upward of two hundred miles of streets, about twenty miles only remain to be sewered.

Examinations of the condition, grade, direction, and capacity of a number of the drains have been made, in order to determine the general character and amount of reconstruction and correction which will be required, and which will constitute in fact the main work in this part of the island. Further examination will be necessary, and is now being prosecuted, to obtain sufficient information to establish the proper outlines of these drainage districts. Much difficulty has been experienced, and the progress of systemization delayed, from the lack of proper records of the depth and location of the sewers.

Special surveys and plans have been completed in detail for the construction of sewers already under contract, and many are completed, and others in course of preparation for work to be prosecuted during the coming season.

Experiments have been undertaken, and are now in progress, to ascertain the difference in the run of the tides at opposite points on the North and East rivers, as well as their total rise and fall in each case.

A very serious and daily increasing difficulty is felt in the obstruction which the street railways present toward the proper construction, repair, and cleansing of the sewers. In many of the streets through which their lines run, the tracks are laid so close together that the necessary excavations for construction cannot be made, nor the proper appliances for cleansing set up between them. The deposit has to be lifted with great delays, and at a largely increased cost, and often cannot be satisfactorily done at all. Expensive and annoying opposition is shown by some of the companies toward contractors who have sewers to construct under this Board. It must be apparent to every citizen that the successful assumption of any power by these corporations, which shall supersede the rights of the city in a matter of such consequence to its health and comfort as the proper control of its streets for sewerage and drainage purposes, would prove as impolitic as it would be criminal.

Much trouble and injury have been occasioned by parties dumping material and filling out against the mouths of some of the sewers, obstructing their delivery so that their contents flood back into cellars connecting with them on either side. Instances of this kind have occurred at the foot of Thirty-fourth street and East river, at the foot of Forty-sixth street, North river, and at the foot of Liberty street. It should be made a misdemeanor for any person or corporation to interfere with the free discharge of any sewer, and no alteration or change in their outlets should be undertaken without the full consent and approval of this Board.

Before closing this branch of our Report, we beg to suggest the propriety of considering and adopting some system of public urinals. There are numerous localities possessing the requisite facilities for their construction, and where their establishment, under proper supervision, would not fail to be productive of much benefit to the public.

The Board have under consideration the question of purchasing, under public competition, the materials of which the sewers are to be built (as is now done in the case of the main water pipes and their appurtenances), and the furnishing of them to contractors at cost. It is believed that manufacturers would prefer to sell the materials to this department in large quantities at much lower rates than they could or would furnish them at in smaller quantities to private and comparatively irresponsible individuals. In this way a considerable saving in the cost of construction would be effected, to the decided benefit of the owners of property in the districts to be assessed for the sewerage improvements.

Mr. Theodore Weston, the Assistant Engineer, who has been placed at the head of the corps engaged in this work, has evinced a degree of zeal and intelligence in all his operations which shows that he appreciates the importance of the duty assigned to him, and possesses the ability to perform it with credit to himself and great benefit to the city.

There are already more than two hundred miles of sewers under our streets, nearly all of which have been built without regard to any system. To correct or even to lessen the evils resulting from so many years of mismanagement is a task requiring much study, care, and time; and though very considerable progress has already been made in the necessary preliminary examinations, and some good steps in the right direction taken, the results are not such as could be detailed in a report with any degree of justice to the amount of labor performed. We feel confident, however, that there has been already improvement in this branch of our work, and we look forward with equal confidence to results which will show the wisdom of the new law in the benefits which our citizens at large will experience.

(For localities of the sewers for which contracts were made during the year, see Schedule No. 32.)

(For details of the expenditure under the head of 'Sewerage System Surveys,' see Schedule No. 16.)

STREETS—REPAVING AND REPAIRS.

The unexpended balance from 1864, under this head, was.....	$33,117 47
The appropriation for the year 1865, was....	100,000 00
	$133,117 47
The amount expended was.....	62,571 25
Leaving balance of.....	$70,546 22

The payments under this head (for which see Schedule No. 17) include the final payment of $21,291.66 on the contract for the repairs to street pavements during the year 1864, and the payments amounting to $32,864.12 on the contract made for same purpose in 1865.

The appropriation for the work of the latter year was $100,000, to be expended, as in 1864, by contract.

Owing to circumstances beyond the control of this Board, which interrupted to some extent the public business during nearly the whole of the months of May and June, the contract for repairs to the street pavements was not let until the 28th day of July. Some further delay in the matter of the sureties offered by the lowest bidder prevented the signing of the contract until the 11th day of August, and the work of repairs was not commenced until Monday, the 14th of the same month, thus leaving only four and a half months, during which, under the most favorable circumstances, repairs could be made.

On the 20th day of December last, it was deemed proper to declare this contract annulled. Since then no payments on account of it have been made, and the work of repairs has been suspended.

The price bid, and upon which this contract was awarded, was at the rate of $14,500 per month, for a period of five months, commencing August 1 and ending December 31. At the present ruling prices of labor and materials, this sum is clearly insufficient to procure the best quality of materials for repairs, and the requisite number of qualified laborers, who should be steadily employed during not less than eight months of the year.

These facts, which were embodied in a communication to the Comptroller, that accompanied our estimates for the Budget of 1866, are considered as fully justifying an increase in the sum usually appropriated for the repairs to street pavements.

NEW STREET PAVEMENTS.

Contracts to the extent of 43,173 superficial yards of new stone-block pavements were made during the year, in addition to which 1,810 superficial yards have been laid at private expense.

The aggregate, viz., 44,983 superficial yards, is much less than the quantity generally laid in each year. The usual annual appropriation under the head of "Belgian Pavements" not having been passed by the Common Council, or authorized by the Legislature of 1865, the new work undertaken has been necessarily limited to those improvements of which the cost was to be fully defrayed by assessments on the property benefited. In our annual report for the year 1864, we stated, under this head, that the Supreme Court, at Special Term, had then recently decided adversely to the right of the Common Council to direct an apportionment of any part of the expense of a new pavement upon the city at large, and that the Board of Revision and Correction, in accordance with this decision, had refused to confirm assessments for street pavements laid under ordinances which required a part of the expense of the improvements to be paid from the City Treasury. An appeal having been taken to the General Term of the same court, this decision was set aside, and the right of the Common Council to assume for the city at large a part or the whole of the expense of these new pavements was affirmed. The Board of Revision and Correction subsequently confirmed, in the proportions directed by the respective ordinances under which they were constructed, the assessment lists then pending for new pavements.

A very large number of new block pavements, the expense of which either wholly or in part, is, by the terms of the respective ordinances directing their construction, to be paid from the City Treasury, have been from time to time ordered by the Common Council. None of these improvements can be undertaken unless an appropriation, covering the portion of the expense which is to be borne by the city at large, be first made. A statement in detail of these proposed new block pavements is given in Schedule No. 31, annexed. It is estimated that the aggregate amount to be taken from the City Treasury will, if the whole of these improvements be made, be upward of $760,000. It is not to be presumed, however, that the Common Council will appropriate, or that the Legislature will sanction the expenditure of so large a sum under this head in any one year. We present the schedule simply that your Honorable Body may know the extent to which improvements in the matter of stone-block pavements have been ordered by your predecessors, as well as the cost to the city which is involved in their construction. An appropriation should, however, be made sufficient to cover the expense of such of these works as it may be desirable to undertake.

Cobble-stone pavements have been laid in several streets, the aggregate quantity being 11,336 superficial

(Details will be found appended to Schedule No. 29.)

WATER PIPES AND LAYING.

The expenditure under this head is mainly in extending the area of water distribution, and in making such repairs to the pipes, stop-cocks, and hydrants as from time to time become necessary.

With every enlargement of the area of water supply the revenue of the city, under the head of water rents, is proportionably increased.

During the past year, twelve thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight lineal feet of six-inch, and six thousand five hundred and twenty lineal feet of twelve-inch interior diameter main pipes have been laid, being a total of three miles three thousand six hundred and eighteen lineal feet, which, added to the quantity previously laid, makes the grand total of two hundred and ninety-eight miles one thousand six hundred and seventy-two lineal feet of main water pipes.

Eighty-three new fire hydrants have been placed in different parts of the city during the year, the localities of which are given in Schedule No. 27.

The amount available for the work of the year was.....	$213,676 63
Amount expended.....	153,239 72
	<hr/>
Unexpended	$60,436 91

(Schedule No. 26 exhibits the locality of the several new lines of main pipes.)

(Schedule No. 28 gives the length of mains laid in each year, from 1849 to date, and Schedule No. 18 furnishes in detail the expenditure for the year.)

WELLS AND PUMPS—REPAIRING.

The amount available under this head was...	$3,580 20
There was expended in repairs to such wells and pumps as are still required in the upper parts of the city and outside the area of water distribution, and also in the proper covering and protection of the wells which have been from time to time abandoned...	3,516 33
Unexpended	$63 87

(For details of the expenditure see Schedule No. 19.)

(For localities of wells filled in or carefully protected, see Schedule No. 35.)

STREET IMPROVEMENT FUND.

We present under this head a statement of the advances and final payments to contractors for street improvements, and the aggregate amounts paid to Surveyors and Inspectors, &c., during the year.

For the amounts stated as drawn for under this head, the city is reimbursed by assessments upon the property benefited by the respective improvements.

(Schedule No. 22 exhibits the amounts drawn for from time to time during the year.)

RUSS PAVEMENT IMPROVEMENT.

No change has been made in this account during the year.

All which we have the honor,

Very respectfully, to submit.

CHAPTER 381 OF LAWS OF 1865.

AN ACT IN RELATION TO SEWERAGE AND DRAINAGE IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Passed April 12, 1865, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. The Croton Aqueduct Board of the city of New York shall have power to devise and frame a plan of sewerage and drainage of the whole of said city, for the purpose of thoroughly draining and carrying off water and other matter proper to be carried off by sewers.

SEC. 2. The said Board shall lay out the said city into as many sewerage districts as they may deem necessary for the aforesaid purpose; and shall also determine and show on suitable maps or plans the location, course, size, and grade of each sewer and drain proposed for each of said districts, and the proposed alterations and improvements in existing sewers; and shall also determine and show on said maps or plans the contemplated depths of said sewers and drains below the present surface, and also below the established grades of the streets and avenues in each of said districts, and such other particulars as may be necessary for the purpose of exhibiting a complete plan of the proposed sewerage therein.

SEC. 3. The said Board shall appoint and employ such engineers, surveyors, inspectors, and other persons, and take and acquire, in accordance with existing laws, such lands as may be necessary for the prosecution of the work authorized by this act.

SEC. 4. Upon the completion of the map or plan for the drainage of any sewerage district, such map or plan shall be the permanent plan for the sewerage of such district; subject, however, to such subsequent modifications as may become necessary, in consequence of alterations made in the grade of any street or avenue, or part thereof, in said district or otherwise. Copies of such complete plans shall be made and filed by said Board in the offices of the Common Council, the Comptroller, Street Commissioner, and City Inspector. The construction of the work under said plans shall have precedence over, and shall not be interfered with, by any work connected with other street improvements in said district.

SEC. 5. The said Board, upon the completion of the plan of sewerage of any district, and the filing of copies thereof as required by section four of this act, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, shall cause printed specifications to be made in accordance with said plan of the work proposed to be done in said district, and shall thereupon invite proposals in the manner now required by law, and shall contract for the whole or any part of the work in said district.

SEC. 6. Upon the completion of the whole of the work embraced in any contract made in pursuance of this act, the Croton Aqueduct Board shall file in the office of the Board of Assessors in said city a certified statement of such completion, and of the nature and extent of the work done, and the prices upon which the contract was awarded, together with a written description and map of the property benefited by such work, in the manner now required by law in the matter of street improvements in said city. The expenses incurred by said Croton Aqueduct Board in pursuance of this act, including the cost of land, shall be assessed upon the property benefited by the improvement made ; and such assessment shall be laid, and confirmed, and collected in accordance with the laws relative to assessments now in force in said city.

SEC. 7. The Croton Aqueduct Board are authorized to insert in each contract made by them under this act a provision that payments by monthly installments of seventy per cent. of the amount of work done will be made during the progress of the work, the remainder of the moneys to be retained until the confirmation of the assessment, and then paid in accordance with the terms or conditions of said contract. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of said city, upon the requisition of the said Croton Aqueduct Board, to pay all the expenses mentioned in section six of this act, from the proceeds of assessment bonds to be issued in accordance with existing laws.

SEC. 8. It shall not be lawful hereafter to construct any sewer or drain in the city of New York, unless such sewer or drain shall be in accordance with the general plan devised by said Croton Aqueduct Board for the sewerage of the particular district in which such sewer or drain is proposed to be constructed.

SEC. 9. This act shall take effect immediately.

REPORT

COMMISSIONERS OF THE LAND OFFICE

DOCUMENT No. 5.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

JANUARY 9, 1866.

The following communication was received from the Counsel to the Corporation, transmitting a report from the Hon. Murray Hoffman, in relation to the affairs of the Public Administrator's office, which was received, directed to be printed in the Minutes, and the usual number of copies be printed in document form, and referred to the Special Committee having the subject in charge:

CITY OF NEW YORK, LAW DEPARTMENT, }
OFFICE OF COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION, }

January 10, 1866.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of New York:

GENTLEMEN—I take leave to transmit to your Honorable Body the report of the Hon. Murray Hoffman, with reference to the affairs of the Public Administrator's office, received by me this day.

Mr. Hoffman was appointed Public Administrator by Mr. Develin, my predecessor in office, for the purpose of examining the accounts and reporting the amount of defalcations in the Public Administrator's office, and all the information I have upon the subject will be found in Mr. Hoffman's report.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD O'GORMAN,

Counsel to the Corporation.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR'S OFFICE.

To RICHARD O'GORMAN, Esq., Corporation Counsel of the city of New York :

You are aware that, on the 29th December last, I received from the late Corporation Counsel an appointment as Public Administrator. It was given and accepted as a temporary appointment, and for the purpose of investigating the affairs of the office as to reported defalcations and fraudulent appropriation of funds. I submit to you, as the head of the Department, the following report. It comprises all that the books and papers in this office, or the information I have otherwise obtained, has enabled me to detect. It is not improbable that other cases may hereafter be established.

The statement contained in Schedule B, annexed, shows the amount for which, in my opinion, the city is clearly responsible. The other items require further investigation. I have not stated an interest account, leaving it to be computed in each particular case. The law exempts the Corporation from liability for interest in some special cases. I have fully considered its provisions, and in my judgment there is no instance among the defalcations stated to which the exemption applies. The liability will extend to interest as well as principal, and the amount may be estimated at about four thousand dollars.

To the extent, therefore, of about forty-one thousand dollars, principal and interest, the city is indisputably responsible. I respectfully suggest that it is due to the creditors defrauded, and expedient to save the expense of litigation, that this liability be immediately recognized, and that the funds be replaced as speedily as possible.

I presume that there are no funds within the control of the city which can be legally applied to this object. I submit the propriety of seeking an act of the Legislature to enable the Comptroller to borrow money for this purpose.

The creditors will feel safe and content when the liability is fully recognized, and the credit and character of the city seem to demand that their rights should be promptly acknowledged.

It will be noticed that a large part of the defalcations now presented has arisen from the abstraction of stocks or bonds of corporations or companies, and the withdrawal of balances from banks of savings. These securities were generally lodged in the safe, taken from it, and moneys raised upon those of the first class by way of sale or pledge, and in the other cases by receiving the balances and surrendering the bank-books. Ineffectual efforts have been made to ascertain the names of the parties dealing with the first-named securities. It might have been deemed expedient to reclaim them when pledged for a less amount than their value: or a higher ground might have been taken, and the question brought before the courts, whether a party treating with a public officer possessed of such securities, from the nature of his trust, could be treated as clearly a purchaser for value without notice, or was not bound to prove that the evidences of debt actually belonged to the party using them. It is obvious that very little of suspicious circumstances attending the transaction would make this a question perilous to the holders.

There is one case in which measures have been taken which possibly may result in saving the sum of five thousand dollars.

My examination of this matter has led me to some suggestions, which I beg leave to submit.

The Common Council has exercised the power of creating a check upon the payment of all moneys by requiring the signature of the Comptroller upon drafts. But no check is provided upon the absolute power of the Administrator to dispose of securities and receive the avails. Considerable protection would be obtained by provisions of the following character :

All the evidences of debt, such as stock certificates, bonds of companies, &c., should be indorsed "Public Administrator's office," attested by the initials of such Administrator, and a person deputed by the Comptroller. No sale, pledge, or transfer of such securities should be valid, or confer any title to, or interest thereon, unless upon the joint transfer, by indorsement or otherwise, of such parties. The person so deputed should be empowered to require, at the close of every month, the production of all securities received during the same, and should indorse and cause the same to be indorsed by such Administrator. No purchaser or holder should be discharged from liability except upon such joint transfer or receipt. The Public Administrator and the person so deputed shall be jointly and severally liable for the amounts received until the same are deposited in the designated bank, to the joint credit of the Comptroller and Public Administrator.

Similar provisions should be made relating to the collection of moneys in the savings banks, and the sale of chattels possessed by the Administrator at auction or otherwise. The joint authorization and a joint receipt should be rendered essential, and the bank, auctioneer, or purchaser should be subject to a continued liability unless he obtain such receipt, or see to the application of the money by a deposit in the bank to the joint account.

I do not suppose that all the subterfuges of fraud are thus to be wholly prevented, but they will afford much protection against the present facility of committing depredations.

These suggestions could be carried out in a few carefully prepared ordinances. Should the matters be deemed worthy of notice, I should be happy to assist in maturing them.

I cannot refrain from saying that the present is a suitable time for such reforms, when the character of the future Public Administrator gives assurance that, while in his case they will be needless, they will receive his countenance and aid to guard the city for the future.

There is one other topic to which I would call your attention. The system of keeping the accounts in this office and the scheme of the annual report to the Common Council are very defective. The annual reports are obscure in what they do state, and omit what it is of great importance should be stated. They are framed upon the system of showing the current year's operations; they do not present the actual and complete situation of the estates and accounts in the office. For this purpose former reports, sometimes of several years prior, or the books of the office, must be resorted to. An annual report ought, no doubt, to show the current year's transactions independently; but it should equally show the entire situation of the office as to funds, property, and estates. The mere book-keeping itself is defective, and in this opinion I have the concurrence of the gentlemen in the office, whose experience entitles their judgment to much weight.

I suggest that the Common Council employ a competent accountant to present a system for the consideration of the Public Administrator and yourself, which may correct these defects and inconveniences.

There is one other point I would notice. The Statute (§ 40) prescribes a publication of the annual report in a newspaper in the city of New York for three weeks, daily, and in the State paper for twice a week. The expense of such publication for the last year was over two thousand dollars. Parties in search of information resort to this office for it, and rarely, I presume, derive it from the newspapers. If a copy of the report was deposited in two public offices, say the County Clerk's and Comptroller's, the end would be as well attained, and this heavy expense saved. But the Legislature must be applied to for a proper enactment, or to repeal the present provision, and leave the subject to the Common Council.

Respectfully submitted,

MURRAY HOFFMAN,
Public Administrator.

MEMORANDUM.

In the matter of the estate of Charles Hopper, a claim has been made for about the sum of $3,700.

The facts are not sufficiently ascertained to enable me to judge as to the liability for the same.

Alleged deficiency in the Commission account, payable to the City Treasury, about $1,800.

A gold watch and a small gold chain appear also to have been taken.

William G. Wilmarch, between $700 and $800.—Received by Mr. Blauvelt, Agent, July, 1864. Admitted that Mr. Bradford knew this receipt. The agent claims to have accounted with Dr. Bradford fully.

Estate of Richard Coogan, deceased.—Final account of Administrator filed.

Creditors allege a deficiency on return of sales of property in September, 1863, amounting to more than $1,500.

The Surrogate has appointed an Auditor to examine the account, and the matter is now before the Auditor. The amount of deficiency cannot be stated until the report of the Auditor.

Estate of Christopher T. Feller, deceased.—Account filed with Surrogate. Creditors allege a deficiency on return of sale of property by H. K. Blauvelt, late agent of Public Administrator, amounting to about $180.

Sale made February 20, 1864.—The matter referred to an Auditor by the Surrogate, and is still undetermined. The amount of deficiency can only be determined by the evidence produced before the Auditor.

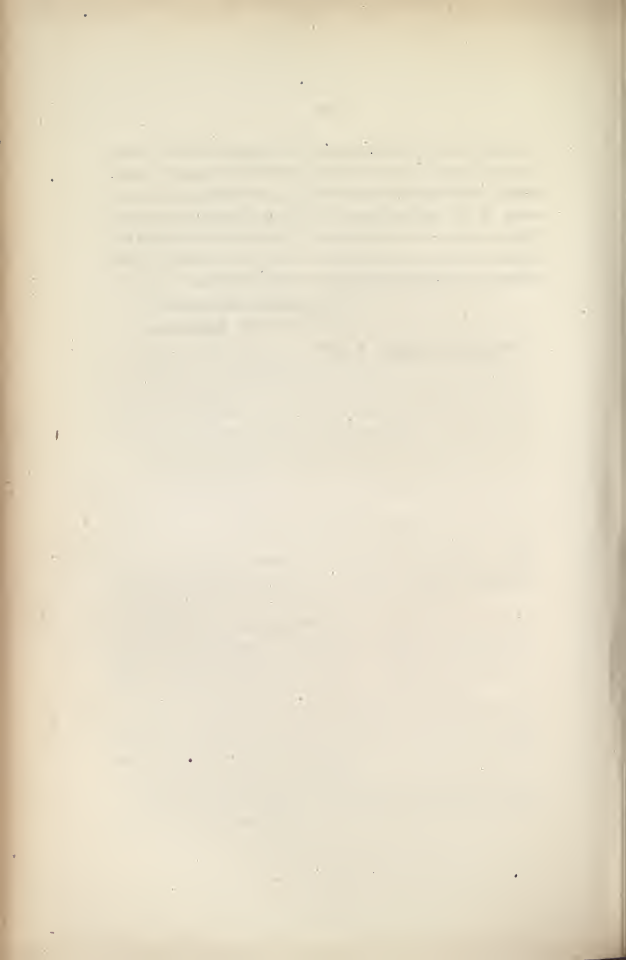

Morris J. Miller, Esq., No. 17 Broad street, is the Auditor in each of the above cases.

Estate of James McCarney.—It is alleged that the sum of about three hundred and fifty dollars, belonging to said estate, was deposited with the late Administrator, but no entry of the same appears on the books of the office. Until parties interested appear, to make a claim, there is no means of ascertaining the condition of the estate or the extent to which the city may be liable therefor.

MURRAY HOFFMAN,

Public Administrator.

REPORT.

CITY INSPECTOR'S DEPARTMENT, }
No. 19 CITY HALL SQUARE, CHATHAM STREET. }

NEW YORK, January 22, 1866.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the city of New York :

GENTLEMEN—In conformity with the requirements of the “ Ordinance organizing the Departments of the Municipal Government of the city of New York,” I have the honor herewith to transmit my Annual Report of the operations and statistics of this Department for the year 1865. These statistics include the operations of the Sanitary Bureau, and the records of births, marriages, and deaths. The latter show the number of deaths during the year, with the causes thereof, and also the sex, nativity, color, and age of the deceased.

The number of births recorded during the year is 5,332, of marriages, 2,733, and of deaths, 24,843, of which deaths 10,039 were adults, and 14,804 were children. The total number of deaths was 802 less than in 1864.

Hitherto, in the Annual Reports of this Department, certain recommendations were made to your Honorable Body, intended to improve the sanitary condition of the city; but after a full consideration of these recommendations it was decided by the Common Council that the Board of Health was the only body which could take efficient action in the matters referred to. Ineffectual efforts were made, during the past two years, by both the Common Council and myself, to induce the late Mayor to convene that Board, and until it is convened I refrain from repeating these recommendations, contenting myself with referring you to those reports as containing fully the views of the Department upon the subjects mentioned therein.

The cleaning of the streets having been contracted out by the Commissioners appointed by the Legislature for that purpose, I respectfully refer you to them for any information on that subject.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

F. I. A. BOOLE,

City Inspector.

CYRUS RAMSAY, M.D., LL.B.,
Registrar of Records and Statistics.

CITY INSPECTOR'S OFFICE, }
BUREAU OF RECORDS AND STATISTICS, }

NEW YORK, February 20, 1866.

F. I. A. BOOLE, Esq., City Inspector :

DEAR SIR—I herewith present you my annual report of the business done in this Bureau during the year ending December 31, 1865. In addition thereto I have appended statements of the mortality from 1851 to 1866.

This report shows the whole number of marriages recorded were 2,733 ; births, 5,332 ; and 24,843 deaths.

The marriages and births, as you are aware, were not fully reported. Many of the clergy absolutely refuse to make returns, notwithstanding the law requires it, and physicians do likewise.

Also the names, ages, date, cause of death, &c., &c., of 2,618 persons who died in different parts of the States and foreigners whose bodies were taken through the city for interment (many of these were soldiers) ; this, and the making-up of the weekly and annual statement of the mortality for publication, constitute the major part of the labors of this Bureau.

From the number of marriages in other cities per 1,000,000 of the population, and the number returned to this Department, it would appear that not more than 33 per cent. of the number solemnized are reported ; and as to the births, the delinquencies are still greater, for there were at least 32,500 children born—i. e., estimating the birth-rate at 3.2 per cent. of the population ; for in all London it is 3.4, and England 3.5 per cent. ; France, 3.2 ; in Austria, 3.9. I do not think 3.2 per cent. an exaggerated estimate ; indeed, I feel persuaded it is below the real number, for there are perhaps as few bachelors, spinsters, widowers, and widows in New York as there are to be found in any other city. Again, the laboring classes generally have more children than the wealthy, and as the former constitute a majority of the resident population of this city, and a very large number of them Europeans, it is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that the birth-rate is nearly, if not quite, as high as in London. And as regards the return of deaths, that may be regarded as accurate; the law forbidding interments in the city, and requiring permits to be obtained before removal, has been so long in existence, with the facilities afforded undertakers, and the penalties for violating these regulations so well known to all ferry-masters, railroad conductors, steamboat captains, and other persons engaged in conveying dead bodies out of the city, few or none are disposed to evade the law.

DEATHS.

The number of deaths recorded were 24,843, of which

13,335	were Males,
11,508	“ Females,
5,433	“ Men,
4,606	“ Women,
14,804	“ Children,
6,217	“ Children under one year.

Ratio to 1,000 living in 1864, 23.7 ; do. in 1863, 25.1 ; decrease, 1.4.

These returns indicate the city to have been entirely free from any epidemic or even endemic, and the general health to have been unusually good.

Tables Nos. 8, 9, and 10 have special reference to the mortality of children, and all show most conclusively that the deaths among this class are becoming less every year. The most casual observer must see that the population must have increased 50 per cent. in the period here indicated, while the number of deaths of children were actually less in 1864 than 1851; and it must be remembered that there is here (as is the case in all large cities) a vast number of poor as well as careless persons, who cannot obtain the services of educated physicians, nor have they the necessary facilities for taking care of their sick children, consequently many must die that under more favorable circumstances would get well

The above table indicates the vast number of human beings who pass off the stage of action ere they are cognizant of an existence. Could this character of vital statistics be perpetuated in this metropolis for a number of years, a foundation would be laid and an opportunity given to the scientific investigation of medicine and sanitary science nowhere else to be found. We must study the causes of death in our own country if we expect to benefit the community.

TABLE No. 11 is the mortality from all causes, from 1851 to 1866. You will perceive that but very few of the diseases has produced as many deaths in 1865 as in 1852, while a large number have declined very greatly.

TYPHUS FEVER.

This is a disease that has existed from the remotest ages, and will, in all probability, continue to the end of the human race.

It appears in the form of an epidemic, endemic, and in isolated cases, and, like all zymotic diseases, varies in malignancy and duration at different periods in the same country. The epidemic influence is always intensified by local circumstances, such as large numbers of persons closely congregated together, hence its prevalence in nearly all large armies in every country and at all times, a want of sewerage and drainage, decaying vegetable matter, unwholesome food, filth and garbage, want of light, ventilation, &c., &c.

NAME.

It has been called by an almost endless number of different names; in 1680 the physicians of London called it "spotted fever." It was known by this name long ere that, and is now, in various countries.

Its prevalence is dreaded next to small-pox, and at this time is in reality a much more fatal disease; there is, perhaps, no one more important, nor any that there exists so many conflicting opinions in regard to the pathology, diagnosis, and treatment of. More real skill, tact, and discrimination are necessary in treating persons sick of it than almost any other malady.

The literature is sadly defective in regard to it. A man who could properly describe it in all the various phases it has from time to time presented, with other circumstances appertaining to it, would not only confer an inestimable blessing upon mankind, but enroll his name among the greatest of men.

It would be no easy task to collect accurate information, owing to the different nomenclatures of the diseases at different times ; for if, from the circumstance that in ancient reports of diseases and registers of deaths the name typhus appears less frequently, we were to infer that typhus was a disease of modern times, we should be guilty of a great mistake, for our forefathers made a distinction between febris (nervosa, putrida, asthenica, adynamica, versatilis, stupida) and typhus ; and in the present day the correct conception of the last-named disease is not so generally extended but that febris mucosa, pituitosa, gastrica cum nota nervosa, febris typhosa, miliaris, &c., are by some surgeons ranged separately from it.

The great revolution in medicine, brought about by sober observation at the bedside of the patient and the dissecting-table, has thrown overboard a number of names of diseases which described nothing, and retained only those which are necessary to describe different processes. Now, as the efforts of pathological anatomy were successful in proving that the disease formerly known under so many different names were not different diseases in themselves, but were cases of typhus, modified in degree by local affection and other circumstances, the comprehension of typhus became more extended, and this name is, therefore, in the present day, more frequently used than formerly.

It is not a very prevalent disease in this city, but few deaths comparatively are reported, and a large number of cases that do occur are among recently arrived emigrants, who import the disease.

It has, however, been more prevalent during 1864 than for many years ; indeed, it has prevailed more or less all over the States.

The following tables exhibit the deaths by it in England, London, and New York from 1844 to 1865, and Sweden for 110 years. The excess of mortality by it, at almost regular intervals of fifteen years in Sweden, during this entire period, will be noticed.

By examining this table you will perceive the mortality by this disease was very great in England, including London, and also in New York, during 1847, 1848, 1849, in 1851-52, and 1853; and, further, it will be seen that the mortality by it is much greater at all times in London than in New York, in proportion to the population, it being as 3 is (in London) to 1 (in New York).

The table on page 234 shows that these fevers are the common prevailing diseases of Sweden. They do not keep full pace with the population, yet a considerable portion of the annual mortality is by them. It will be noticed, also, that they occur in the form of fearful epidemics at almost stated periods of from ten to fifteen years. This is an exceedingly valuable table, as it shows the statistics of this disease in that country for more than a century—a circumstance that is scarcely found in any country, and speaks well for the vigilance and order of these people.

DECREASE OF MORTALITY OF EPIDEMICS, ETC.

The fact that all parts of the world are gradually becoming more and more healthy is apparent to every investigator. The cause, doubtless, is the comparative mildness of epidemics for a century or more. Why this is no man can tell. Nature's laws are immutable, and in very many respects incomprehensible. The more we study and investigate the death-rate of all countries the more clearly do we see the invariableness of these laws exhibited in the almost precise number of deaths each year corresponding with the population, state of society, &c., influenced in a degree by atmospheric vicissitudes, improvements in sanitary regulations, &c.; yet there is an exactness in the number dying that extorts awe and admiration. For example, one or a number of diseases may be more fatal, others will be found less, so that an almost exact equilibrium exists. The same similarity is found in violent deaths, and even suicides.

At certain intervals one disease will suddenly assume a most violent and exceedingly fatal character, absorbing (or diffusing itself into) all other diseases, covering, as it were, the whole earth with a mantle of death, and for a time interrupting the regular steady march of death by augmenting the mortality. But soon again the number will be about the same as was previous to the interruption. There is also a remarkable similarity in the recurrence and duration of these epidemics, appearing at almost definite periods or cycles. Many zymotic diseases even have regular periods of violence and mildness, small-pox, for example, without regard to the influence of vaccination, typhus fever, &c.

The conclusion, then, is that disease and death are governed by laws as definite and fixed as is the planetary system. I am aware this doctrine will be rejected by some, and even scoffed at by others ; but should they examine the subject impartially, carefully, and extensively, i. e., in a manner commensurate with its magnitude and importance, they will find great difficulty in disproving it. All the statistics of every country and age show it to be true. Heat and cold, drought and dampness, disregard of the laws of hygiene, the cultivation of sanitary and medical science, produces but a ripple upon the surface of the mighty ocean of death that is sweeping so many millions of human beings into eternity each decade.

It is asserted that garbage, offal, decaying vegetable matter, and unclean streets will create and originate epidemics. These and other similar agents do produce disease, sporadic or isolated cases, and they may create an endemic, but as to producing an epidemic, that is an utter impossibility in the full sense of the term. Epidemics, I have said, seem to recur at almost stated periods. As an example in the present century, we have been visited by three, the duration of each being almost identical. The first, in 1812, a malignant fever. The character or grade of all diseases was then so changed that an entire revolution was produced in the treatment of every species of illness. For some time previous, bloodletting, antimonials, and other reducing agents were absolutely necessary in the cure of disease, but in a few months this mode of practice became not only unnecessary, but in many cases positively pernicious. Tonics, stimulants, and other supporting remedies were indicated and used in their stead. This condition continued until 1832, a period of 21 years, when the second (cholera) made its appearance, characterized by a violent irritation of the mucous tissues, producing profuse discharges from the stomach and bowels, all other diseases partaking in a degree of the same symptoms. This existed for about 22 years, i.e., up to 1856, when the throat became the seat of a peculiar disease termed Diphtheria, which, like the others, influenced nearly every other malady. It is still the epidemic. Neither of the three diseases here referred to was entirely new, but appear in works on medicine of very ancient dates.* Why they should suddenly assume so malignant a character, and for a time absorb, as it were, all other diseases, and that, too, in all parts of the world at nearly the same time, is most emphatically a mystery. This and similar occurrences have baffled the deepest researches of the human intellect. Who could have the effrontery (calling himself educated) to assert that these epidemics are the result of neglected sanitary regulations?

The following table, compiled from official reports, exhibits the decrease of mortality in a number of countries and cities for two or more centuries :

* Cholera caused in London during 20 years (from 1660 to 1679) 130 deaths per annum.—See Registrar-General's Report of London, 1859.

Dividing this time into three equal periods of 42 years each, it is found in the First 42 years the deaths exceeded the births in 24 years, the Second in 12, and the Third in but 3 years, showing a great decline in the deaths.

The following are the periods :

From 1733 to 1775, 42 years, excess of deaths.....	24

“ 1817 to 1859, 42 “ “	3

VARIATIONS OF CERTAIN DISEASES IN TWO PERIODS, 1660-79 AND 1859.

It may be instructive to compare the fatality by some of the diseases of London now and in the seventeenth century. In the twenty years 1660-79 the mortality in Southwark and in the city within and without the walls was at the rate of 7 or 8 per cent.; so the mortality within the bills may be set down at the rate of 7,000 annually in every 100,000 living, of which 3,400 were zymotic diseases.

The diseases were not always distinguished accurately. But by putting them in groups, any fallacy from this source will be obviated, and the decrease of some of the worst forms of mortal disease will be placed beyond doubt.

To render the comparison easy, the number living is taken to be the same in two periods, 100,000 in 1660-79 and in 1859.

The annual deaths by small-pox were 357 in the first periods. Medical science was imperfect, and the science existing in that century was very imperfectly applied. Croup and scarlatina were not generally recognized, but were confounded with measles and fever. The mortality by fever, continued or remittent, and ague was at the rate of 749 and 59 in the two periods; or, including scarlatina, quinsy, and croup, the mortality was 759 and 227. Thus a person was in four times as much danger of dying of these diseases at the Restoration as a person living in London now. Women are not yet entirely exempt from peril in child-bearing; the mortality by that disease is now 17, it was then 86. Again, a few (8) in 100,000 die now of dysentery; then, out of the same number, 763 died annually of that disease. By diarrhœa, a milder form of disease, 11 died then, 120 die now; cholera was fatal in 1849-57, and in the twenty years (1660-79) to 130 annually. Syphilis was twice as fatal as it is, the numbers being 21 and 12. Scurvy and purpura bear testimony to the imperfect nutrition of the population; the annual deaths were then 142 and are now 2. Vegetables, fruit, and fresh meat could with difficulty be procured in winter. Worms and all parasitic creatures that crawl over, bite, and prey on the body of man were prevalent; 10 deaths were ascribed to worms.

Dropsy, a result and sign of scurvy and fever, was exceedingly fatal; 298 died of that disease then, and 26 now. Apoplexy, paralysis, epilepsy, affections of the brain, and suicide are more fatal now, according to the returns, than they were, in the proportion of 57 then to 151 now.

Consumption and diseases of the breathing organs were uncommonly fatal; 1,097 then and 611 now are the figures of the mortality. Diseases of the digestive organs were fatal then and now in the proportion of 146 and 95. Stone and diseases of the urinary organs are now as fatal as they were then; the deaths being 21 and 30. Children were rapidly cut down; of convulsions and teething, 1,175 died then, 136—too many—now.

Of the violent deaths, some are now more frequent, as the forces by which they are occasioned are greater; of fractures and wounds, 19 died then, 25 now; of poison, more accessible, 2 now, and then only 1; of burns, as fires are probably more common, and dresses more inflammable, now 13, then 3; drowning and suffocation were then twice as fatal (23 and 20) as they are (10 and 10) in the present day.

Five in 100,000 of the people were executed then annually; now 1 in the whole population.

In addition, the inhabitants of London were then destroyed by the terrible plague; which, upon an average of the twenty years, carried off 1,132 lives.

In 1665 nearly a third of the population perished by plague. It is difficult to conceive this frightful destruction of human life; the imagination, the wailing notes of writers, the details of Defoe in a work which would have immortalized any writer, fail to bring all the horrors before our minds.

The mortality was at the rate of seven per cent. on an average during the twenty years. If the mortality of London had been at the same rate in the last year, instead of 61,617 about 194,204 deaths would have been registered.

The plague was more appalling as the mortality overwhelmed the people in particular years; thus the burials from 15,356 in 1663 rose to 97,306, "whereof 68,596 were by the plague," in 1665; and this was equivalent to more than 600,000 deaths by plague in the present population of London. In the third week of September 8,297 deaths were registered, which represents a rate of mortality equivalent to about 85,000 deaths in a week on the actual population of London.

In the recurring plagues vast numbers of people fled in panic terror from the fatal city; servants and work-people were discharged in great numbers; commerce was paralyzed; few ships ventured up the river, and merchant vessels were occupied by their owners as asylums on the water. Sextons, grave-diggers, bearers, bellmen, and drivers of death-carts were in demand. The dead were buried indiscriminately; some bodies lay in forsaken houses, others across the paths in the streets, no longer traversed by carts or coaches. At the end of the summer, grass was growing in Bishopsgate street and Cornhill, where the people thronged no longer. The loud voices, shrieks, and sobs of the delirious, the desolate, and the dying were heard in the streets; at times, too, disturbed by reckless revellers and by raving patients, who had escaped from their dwellings, converted into prisons; for according to the regulations "infected houses" were shut up; a red cross and "Lord have mercy upon us!" were inscribed on their portals; while watchmen jealously guarded the doors. These quarantine regulations were at first rigidly carried out, and were only gradually abandoned when they were found useless, pernicious, and impracticable.

CAUSES OF DEATH. CHANGES OF LOCATION IN CITY OF LONDON.*

Of every 100 deaths in the city during the autumn quarter, 24 have been from zymotic diseases, 16 from inflammatory affections of the lungs, 13 from pulmonary consumption, 9 from the tubercular diseases of infancy, 6 from convulsions, and 6 from violence—the rest being from chronic diseases, chiefly of old persons. Most of these are nearly in the same proportion as in former years, although the aggregate numbers in each case are generally below the average. In the case of continued fever, and of whooping-cough, however, the numbers are greatly above the average; for the former has risen from a mean proportion of 28 to 39 in the quarter, and the latter from 19 to 42. These indeed have been the most severe diseases of the season, for together they make more than half of all the zymotic deaths. It is difficult to perceive the cause of this, for although the mild and humid condition of the atmosphere during the quarter may have contributed to the development of continued fever, by promoting the diffusion of organic miasms, it is hard to understand how it has influenced the progress of whooping-cough. Last year the prevailing malady was measles, and in the autumn of the year before it was small-pox and scarlet fever. Why is it that there are these vicissitudes ?

Must the zymotic force expend itself by manifesting its action in some shape or another ; or is it that we have not yet discovered the conditions which are necessary for its development, and are therefore unable to arrest its progress ? For some years past I have watched with satisfaction the gradual and steady abatement of continued fever, and have spoken of it as the undoubted result of sanitary improvement ; but now, and without warning, the disease comes suddenly upon us, and causes a higher mortality than has been seen in any autumn or other quarter for five years. This would seem to negative my former conclusions ; but when we come to look closely at it, there is one fact which is most noticeable about it—the disease has not shown itself in its usual haunts. The time was when fever was only found in the purlieus of poverty and filth, when, like an enfranchised thing, it flourished in the crowded courts and alleys of our great cities. There, and there only, it fixed itself and lived endemically, sometimes getting strength from its active development, and spreading like a pestilence into cleaner ground, the confines of luxury ; but now it has changed its abode. All through the present quarter we have noticed that the poor have not been the chief sufferers from the disease ; it has been most active among the better classes. This is shown not merely by the mortality returns, and by the gloom which now hangs upon nations from the loss of their princes, but also by the records of sickness. In the several districts of the city, even to the present moment, there has been a gradual and continuous abatement of fever among the poor. In the autumns of 1858 and 1859, when the mortality from the disease was not nearly so high as now, the number of fever cases attended among the poor by the medical officers of the City Unions was from three hundred and one to three hundred and thirteen in the quarter, making an aggregate of ten per cent. of all the sickness returns; but during the quarter which has just expired, the number of fever cases among the city poor has been only seventy-six, which is barely three per cent. of all the sickness.

Nothing can more clearly indicate the fact that fever has migrated from the haunts of poverty.

These few remarks on the change in the location of certain diseases in London by this celebrated medical officer of health correspond with the observations of all impartial investigators, viz. : that there are certain peculiarities in regard to the most prevalent diseases of which we have no definite knowledge. They often and without any apparent cause leave a locality where they have prevailed for a long time, and appear in other places heretofore almost free from them. This fact has ever baffled the comprehension of the learned, but to the superficial it is as clear as noon-day, i. e., in their opinion. The deeper the research and the greater the knowledge gained in regard to the character or phases of disease in different periods, the more clearly does its incomprehensibility in many respects appear. We often can and do trace effect to cause, and are able to point out the origin of the increased prevalence of certain diseases, the fact being demonstrated by a decline in the death-rate corresponding with the removal of the nuisance; but to assert that it can in every instance be ascertained is an exhibition of defective knowledge.

This table exhibits a diminution in Tubercular diseases taken as a whole, while Consumption keeps pace nearly with the increase of population. Hydrocephalus and Marasmus are decreasing ; the deaths by them, it will be seen, were less in 1864 than 1855.

The following statistics are taken from the "Statistique de la France," for the years 1858, 1859, and 1860 :

SUICIDES.

Annual average during the period,	1,739		2,346		3,199		3,810

An examination of the above table will suffice to prove that the actual number of suicides has continued to increase in this country. The annual rate of this increase has been, during the following periods :

From 1827 to 1830.....	4·63
" 1830 to 1840.....	5·68
" 1840 to 1850.....	3·07
" 1850 to 1860.....	1·26
From 1827 to 1860.....	5·93

But this simple increase is not the most important feature ; it is especially desirable to ascertain whether suicides have increased proportionately to the population. The following table directly answers this question :

PERIODS.	NUMBER OF SUICIDES PER 107,000 INHABITANTS.	INCREASE.	YEARS.	NUMBER OF SUICIDES PER 100 000 INHABITANTS.	INCREASE.
1827-1830.....	5·41	1851.....	10·06

			1859.....	10·73	-0·04
			1860.....	11·09	0·36
Total increase.....		5·63			1·03

The total increase in 33 years being 5·63 per 100,000 inhabitants, the annual increase is about 0·17. This increase, although continuous, is variable. In the period between 1836 and 1840, it reached the maximum, and from 1851 to 1861 it was at the minimum.

Four out of the last ten years show a decline, viz., 1853, 1857, 1858, and 1859, while the years 1854, 1856, and 1860, on the contrary, present a notable increase contrasted with previous figures. Notwithstanding these fluctuations, however, the general result inspires the hope that the increase in voluntary deaths will not continue.

SUICIDES BY SEXES.

Suicides have not been classified by sexes except since 1835. The following are the results of this classification by periods of five years :

PERIODS.	NUMBER OF SUICIDES.		NUMBER OF SUICIDES PER 100,000 INHABITANTS OF BOTH SEXES.		INCREASE.		NUMBER OF SUICIDES OF MALES TO EVERY 100 FEMALE SUICIDES.
	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.
1836-1840.....	9,561	3,307	11·40	3·84	289
1841-1845.....	11,088	3,669	12·88	4·17	1·48	0·33	302
1846-1850.....	13,036	4,093	14·63	4·54	1·75	0·27	311
1851-1855.....	13,596	4,601	15·22	5·01	0·59	0·47	295
1856-1860.....	15,314	4,694	17·13	5·11	1·91	0·10	326
Total increase.....	5·73	1·27	307

These figures show three times as many cases of suicides of males as in the other sex. This proportion, however, varies in the different periods ; but there seems a tendency toward an increase, for the number of suicides of males to each 100 cases of suicides of females, which was 289 for the first period, is 326 in the last. The same result appears from a calculation of suicides by sexes in proportion to the population. During 25 years the increase in suicides of males has been at the rate of 5·73 to each 100,000, and in the opposite sex only 1·27. The annual increase in the first case is 0·14, and in the latter, 0·03.

Without reckoning the suicides at unknown ages, we deduce from the foregoing table the following cases of suicides at various ages, in proportion to a total of 10,000 cases per annum :

This table shows that the number of suicides increases with age up to the period between 40 and 50 years, when it attains its maximum, declining thereafter until 80 years and older, when it reaches the lowest figure. It is to be remarked, on this point, that the maximum generally occurs between the ages of 40 and 50, although it sometimes extends into the next following decennial period. It appears, also, by comparing the sexes, that there are more cases of suicides of females than of males, under 21 years of age.

But we should arrive at a very erroneous conclusion by estimating the influence of age upon the number of suicides. To ascertain the truth in this connection, it will suffice to compare the number of suicides with the number of persons living of the same ages. This is shown below by a comparison, on the one hand, of the annual average of suicides committed in 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852 and 1853, with the census of the population according to ages made in 1851; and, on the other hand, by comparing the census of 1856 with the average of suicides between 1854 and 1858 inclusive.*

* Cases of suicide under ten years of age, being excessively rare, are not taken into account.

This double comparison clearly demonstrates that the rate of suicides increases in both sexes up to the latest years of life. The decreasing period does not commence until the age of 80 years, and even at this extreme age the proportion of suicides is still considerable, being almost equal to that observed between 60 and 70 years. During both periods, this ratio manifests itself with the greatest regularity in the number of male suicides, and also in the latter period in female cases; but in the first period the increase of suicides among females is slightly checked between the ages of 30 and 40, after which the increase continues up to the extreme limit of life. Although there is no actual check in the latter period, there is yet a marked abatement in the rate of progressive increase.

In this connection, we have to express regret that the officers of justice have omitted to classify suicides under the heads of "married" and "single." From observations made in other countries, it would appear that, the population being equal, suicides are more frequently committed by unmarried persons, and those that have been married, than by persons married at the time of the suicide.

On comparing the number of suicides of males with those committed by the other sex, at corresponding ages, we see that the relative proportion of the former to the latter is lowest at the term between 10 and 20 years of age, and that subsequently it increases until the age of 50 years, after which it decreases until the end of life. Both periods, however, show that at 70 years the number of suicides of males tends upward. The proportion of male suicides to female is not so high in youth and old age, as it is at other stages of life. It will be remembered that we have already reached this conclusion by simply noting the deaths according to ages.

SUICIDES DURING DIFFERENT MONTHS OF THE YEAR.

In the following monthly table of the suicides committed during the last ten years, the months have been uniformly reckoned as having 31 days each :

The figures in the last column show with what regularity suicides progress according to the different months of the year. Starting from the month of January, the number of cases increases up to the month of June, after which it decreases until December, when the minimum is reached.

The proportion of suicides, according to seasons, may be summed up thus :

Out of 12,000 cases there occurred in :

Winter (December, January, and February)....2,467

Spring (March, April, and May)3,346

Summer (June, July, and August).....3,571

Autumn (September, October, and November)..2,616

12,000

Thus the largest number of suicides occurs in the warmest months of the year, and the least number in winter. We have to remark, finally, that these results apply equally to both sexes.

MODES OF COMMITTING SUICIDE.

The modes of committing suicide are very varied, and differ especially according to sex, as will appear by the following table covering the last ten years.

Let us first ascertain the relative proportion of these various modes of self-destruction during the two periods of five years each to which the preceding table refers :

INSTRUMENTS OR MEANS OF SUICIDE.	1851-1855.	1856-1860.
Drowning.....	3,202	3,008
Strangulation and Hanging.....	3,643	4,087
Firearms {	Pistol.....	306
	Guns.....	489
	Not specified.....	41
Asphyxia from Charcoal.....	887	804
Cutting or pointed instruments.....	393	401
Poison.....	172	222
Falling voluntarily from high places.....	386	339
Divers other means.....	74	73
Total.....	10,000	10,000

It appears that drowning and strangulation are the means most frequently resorted to by suicides, over two-thirds of the above cases having occurred through those means. Next come firearms of all kinds, and asphyxia by charcoal. Nine-tenths of these suicides have been effected by one of these means, the remaining tenth having been caused by sharp instruments, poison, or by jumping from a high spot. With regard to asphyxia, we have to add that two-thirds of those who choose this species of death belong to the department of the Seine (which contains the city of Paris).

By comparing the two periods, a relative augmentation appears in strangling or hanging, in the employment of cutting or pointed instruments, and of poison; and a corresponding diminution in the cases of drowning, the use of firearms, asphyxia, and falling voluntarily from high places.

The following is the relative proportion, during the entire period, of the various modes of death, according to the sex of the suicides :

INSTRUMENTS OR MEANS OF SUICIDE.	NUMBER OF SUICIDES.		PROPORTION TO 10,000 SUICIDES.		SUICIDES OF FEMALES TO EACH 100 CASES OF SUICIDES OF MALES.
	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.

Firearms.....	4,337	53	1,500	57	0.1
Asphyxia by Charcoal.....	1,917	1,307	663	1,406	68.2
Sharp or pointed instruments.....	1,272	250	440	269	2.0

Total.....	28,910	9,295	10,000	10,000	32.2
	38,205

Thus, the means of suicide preferred by men are, firstly, strangulation or hanging, and, next to these, drowning and firearms, while women have resort mostly to drowning or to strangulation by hanging and asphyxia. It may be said that, for 42 men who hang or strangle themselves, only 26 women resort to this means of suicide. Firearms are used almost exclusively by the male sex, as 25 men blow their brains out, where but one woman dies in this way. Of suicides committed with cutting or pointed instruments, the proportion is 44 men to 27 women.

On the other hand, of the cases of death by drowning, there are 9 women to 5 men; by poisoning, 2 women to 1 man; by asphyxia from charcoal, 2 women to 1 man; and by jumping from high places, 5 women to 3 men. Thus it appears that women have an instinctive repugnance to modes of self-destruction which disfigure the body.

Finally, although the number of male suicides, irrespective of the mode of death, is throughout greater than that of suicides of females, the highest proportion of female to male suicides is to be found, first, in deaths by asphyxia, and, next, successively in leaping from high places, poisoning, and drowning.

GEOGRAPHICAL APPORTIONMENT OF SUICIDES.

In order to ascertain the proportionate number of suicides in the eighty six old departments (counties), we have compared the annual average of suicides committed in 1856, 1857, 1858, 1859, and 1860, with the average population deduced from the census of 1856 and that of 1861.

This table shows that the least number of suicides occur in the central and southwestern counties, while the greatest number of cases are recorded in the department of the Seine and the adjoining counties. Finally, twenty-six counties equal or exceed the proportion of the average of all, and sixty fall below it.

This classification does not vary to any great extent with regard to the sexes.

The following remarks relate to Table on pages 276-7 :

MALE SEX.	PROPORTION OF SUICIDES.	FEMALE SEX.	PROPORTION OF SUICIDES.
Mental alienation.....	1,987	Mental alienation.....	3,504
Desire to get rid of physical suffering.....	1,049	Domestic troubles not otherwise specified..	1,085

Disgust with life.....	417	Habitual drunkenness.....	269
Bad conduct, dissipation.....	400	Bad conduct, dissipation.....	211
Disappointed love.....	191	Embarrassed affairs, debts.....	113

These various causes seem to have determined in the male sex a little less, and in the female a little more, than three-quarters of the suicides committed by each respectively. Disappointed love, mental alienation, and domestic troubles affect women more particularly, while business embarrassments, drunkenness, bad conduct and dissipation, the desire to escape from judicial proceedings, want, and disgust of life have a greater influence upon men. Thus, for example, where 100 women kill themselves owing to unrequited love, we find only 37 cases of men putting an end to their lives from the same motive ; and while 57 men commit suicide through mental alienation and 87 in consequence of domestic troubles, the number of suicides of females from each of those causes is 100.

On the other hand, for each 100 cases of suicides of men through debts or business embarrassments, there are but 18 female cases ; through drunkenness, 41 ; bad conduct, 53 ; desire to escape from judicial proceedings, 54 ; want, 68 ; and disgust of life, 84.

These differences all arise from the nature of each sex, and from the various parts they are called to fill in life.

The foregoing general table may be reduced to the following grand divisions :

GENERAL CAUSES OF SUICIDES.	No. of SUICIDES.		PROPORTION TO 10,000 SUICIDES.		No. of FEMALE SUICIDES TO EACH 100 MALE SUICIDES.
	Men.	Women.	Men.	Women.

TOTAL.....	28,910	9,295	10,000	10,000	32·2
	38,205

Thus, while there are in general three times more cases of suicides of males than of females, of the suicides induced by love, jealousy, and remorse, the proportion of female to male cases is ninety-six per cent., and fifty-two per cent. in cases determined by cerebral diseases ; in suicides caused by want, bad conduct, and dissipation, the proportion is as low as fourteen per cent.

WANT AND REVERSES OF FORTUNE.

FAMILY AFFECTIONS.

Although the information collected by the administration of justice as to the causes of suicides cannot be in all cases implicitly relied upon, still we have deemed it advisable to select those causes which seem to have determined the most numerous results during the decennial period from 1851 to 1860, the statistics of which will be found on pages 274-5.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

JANUARY 22, 1866.

The following communication from the Street Commissioner, submitting his Fourth Quarterly Report for the year 1865, being business of the Street Department up to and including December 31, 1865, was received, laid on the table, and the usual number of copies ordered to be printed in document form.

Clerk.

STREET DEPARTMENT, STREET COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, }

NEW YORK, December 31, 1865.

To the Honorable the Common Council :

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the provision contained in Section 29 of the Charter of 1857, I have the honor to submit to your Honorable Bodies the following Report of the transactions of the quarter ending this day, together with the reports of the Superintendents of Bureaux, giving detailed statements of the business performed in their respective vocations, and also a summary of all public transactions done in this Department during the year 1865.

Requisitions upon the Comptroller have been drawn by the Street Commissioner in payment for work done and supplies furnished during the quarter, amounting, in the aggregate, to the sum of five hundred and thirty-two thousand four hundred and eighty-five dollars and five cents ($532,485.05); of this amount, one hundred and twenty-five thousand four hundred and sixty-one dollars and two cents ($125,461.02) have been drawn upon "Trust Accounts," and will be reimbursed the City Treasury by the usual assessments upon the property benefited. This will leave the amount drawn upon "Tax Appropriations," during the quarter, four hundred and seven thousand and twenty-four dollars and three cents ($407,024.03).

Appendix A, to which your attention is respectfully invited, presents a statement showing balances of appropriations pertaining to the Street Department, on hand January 1, 1865, amount appropriated by the Legislature for the year, the total amount of appropriations for the year 1865, amount of requisitions drawn on each appropriation and account by the Street Commissioner on the Comptroller, for the first nine months, as also for the fourth quarter of the present year; the amount paid by the Comptroller, without the requisition of the Street Commissioner, to December 31, 1865, and the balance on hand of every appropriation on this date.

Appendix B contains in detail the precise amount applied to each particular object and purpose, the amounts charged the Collector of Assessments, and the number of Assessment Lists delivered him, the amounts paid by the Collector to the City Chamberlain, amounts returned to the Bureau of Arrears for Assessments remaining uncollected, and all matters coming under the cognizance of the Book-keeper.

Appendix C contains a statement showing list of contracts made by this Department during the year 1865, with titles of work, amount of each contract, and name of contractor, showing that forty-two (42) contracts have been awarded by the Street Commissioner for street improvements during the year 1865, and twenty-one (21) for rebuilding and repairing wharves and piers during the same period. There is further submitted in the Appendix a list of contracts in progress, for which final vouchers have not been drawn.

I would beg leave to call your attention to the very important matters referred to in the Report of the Superintendent of Street Improvements. They are of grave importance to so rapidly growing a city, and alike affect the public as well as private economy, and should meet with early consideration.

I refer more particularly to the present state of exterior lines of our harbor, and the grades of streets and avenues affected thereby. The other subjects are also well worthy legislation. Those important matters were more fully alluded to in my report dated this day one year ago (Document No. 4, Board of Aldermen, folios 6-11), and to which I would also respectfully refer.

During the year work has been done, and vouchers drawn in payment therefor, amounting to the sum of three hundred and fifty-one thousand two hundred and fifty-seven dollars and thirty-nine cents ($351,257.39), not including much which has been done where payments are not yet due. The amount of work done in this Bureau during the quarter ending this day is one hundred and ninety-five thousand one hundred and seventy-eight dollars and seventy-seven cents ($195,178.77), of which one hundred and sixteen thousand two hundred and ninety-nine dollars and seventy-eight cents ($116,299.78) was drawn by requisition on the Comptroller on "Trust Accounts."

THE BUREAU OF WHARVES has expended, mostly on repairs, during the quarter, the sum of fifty-two thousand nine hundred and ninety-two dollars and seventeen cents ($52,992.17), leaving a balance unexpended this day of fourteen thousand two hundred and three dollars and five cents ($14,203.05).

THE BUREAU OF ROADS reports having expended during the fourth quarter, mainly upon Kingsbridge, Tubby Hook, Fort Washington, and High Bridge roads, the sum of twenty thousand eight hundred and ninety-three dollars and sixty-six cents ($20,893.66). Balance on hand, nineteen hundred and ninety-six dollars, with outstanding liabilities about eleven hundred dollars.

THE BUREAU OF LANDS AND PLACES submits a statement, showing expenses during the fourth quarter of this year to be two hundred and fourteen dollars and sixty-three cents ($214.63), leaving a balance on December 31, 1865, of one hundred and eighty-four dollars and ninety-one cents. The parks and public places are certainly in a commendable condition.

THE BUREAU OF REPAIRS AND SUPPLIES by the act of the Legislature of March 30, 1865, was relieved of the immediate care and repair of the buildings in use by the Fire Department, and an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars only was made to repair and make tenable the City Hall, markets, and court-houses. It appears, as will be seen by the report of the Superintendent of this Bureau, that thirty-three thousand three hundred and eighty-three dollars and fourteen cents of the above-named appropriation was expended during the first six months for essential repairs to buildings occupied by the Fire Department, which was done pending a decision of the Court of Appeals as to the constitutionality of the law. Consequently, but a comparatively small balance remained for needed and contemplated repairs to other public buildings.

Amount expended during the fourth quarter, ending December 31, 1865, on appropriations: Public Buildings, Construction and Repairs, seventeen thousand eight hundred and forty-seven dollars and ninety-five cents ($17,847.95). Balance on hand this day, nineteen thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven dollars and seventy-eight cents ($19,957.78). Expenditures on this appropriation during the entire year, eighty thousand five hundred and twenty-eight dollars and eighty-six cents ($80,528.86).

THE DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT OF REPAIRS AND SUPPLIES reports expenditures during the fourth quarter of the year for supplies furnished the public offices and departments, amounting to twelve thousand eight hundred and six dollars and sixty-one cents ($12,806.61), and that the total amount of balances remaining to the credit of "Printing for Departments," "Stationery and Blank Books," and "Supplies for and Cleaning Public Offices," and which are under the supervision of this officer, nine thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and forty-three cents ($9,769.43).

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF LAMPS AND GAS is very full, and relates to many matters deserving the immediate consideration of the Common Council: the manner in which the public lamps are lighted, the present extravagant prices charged, the liabilities and arrearages of the city are referred to, and which are hereinafter more completely submitted as a guide for your action.

You will also notice that the attention of the Common Council is desired to a growing evil in allowing business signs to be placed on the street lamp-posts, many of which are very large, and hundreds of feet away from the buildings where the business is conducted.

The expenditures of the quarter in this Bureau are two hundred and twenty-six thousand five hundred and eighteen dollars and fifteen cents ($226,518.15), leaving a balance of sixty-five thousand four hundred and thirty-seven dollars and twenty-nine cents ($65,437.29).

THE BUREAU OF COLLECTION OF ASSESSMENTS exhibits in a brief and concise form the large amount of "Trust Funds" collected, and the condition of the accounts of this Bureau on this 31st day of December, wherein it will be seen that during the past quarter the Collector has been charged for thirty-eight Assessment Lists delivered him for collection and for interest thereon, the sum of two hundred and fifty-six thousand nine hundred and eleven dollars and sixty-six cents ($256,911.66), in addition to the balance remaining in his hands uncollected on the 1st of October, 1865, of seven hundred and forty-thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight dollars and fifty-five cents ($740,928.55), and that there has been collected and paid to the Chamberlain in cash, together with the assessments uncollected, transmitted to the Clerk of Arrears, seventy-seven in number, and which have been credited the Collector, five hundred and six thousand two hundred and twenty-one dollars and twenty-seven cents ($506,221.27). The Collector of Assessments therefore has in his hands this day assessments uncollected amounting to four hundred and ninety-one thousand six hundred and eighteen dollars and ninety-four cents ($491,618.94).

In conclusion, I would respectfully refer your Honorable Bodies to several subjects alluded to in my preceding quarterly reports, and to several special communications; these deserve, at least, the consideration, if not the legislative action, of the Common Council, but, either through inadvertency or accident, they have not received that attention of the Corporate authorities which, in the opinion of this Department, they deserve. The interests of the city are not inconsiderably involved both commercially and in its internal regulations in not giving attention to its grades, the lighting of the city, the improvement of its wharves, the necessity of making contracts, a change in the fiscal year, &c.

GRADES AND EXTERIOR STREETS.—In my report of December 31, 1863 (Doc. No. 3, Board of Aldermen, folio 9), I solicited the attention of the Common Council to the great importance of this subject, and referred to the report and recommendations of the Superintendent of Street Improvements ; also again more particularly in my report of December 31, 1864 (Doc. No. 4, Board of Aldermen, folio 10, and from folio 127 to 131). It is indeed of the utmost necessity that the city have its water fronts unobstructed and open to the general traffic and commerce, and that the approaches be ample and of easy grade ; on both sides of the island but little legislation of a decisive nature has been had that would tend to invite commerce and improve the access to the water front. In short, the upper portion of the island in this respect remains in its primitive natural state.

The grade of the streets at their intersection of the Eighth avenue in the neighborhood of the Central Park will doubtless receive, as it requires, your immediate action.

LIGHTING THE PUBLIC LAMPS.—My communications upon this subject have been very full and complete, and I would respectfully refer your Honorable Bodies to them. The difficulties that have arisen are gradually becoming more and more complicated, the city daily more involved, and arrearages accruing to an alarming extent, amounting at the present time, as claimed by the various gas companies, to three hundred and ninety-two thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars and nineteen cents ($392,750.19). The contracts made by the city with the various gas companies have all expired, except that with the Manhattan Gas-light Company. Reference was made by me to these contracts, setting forth all the facts, the demands of the companies for increased rates, and the results to the present time in my report of December 31, 1863, folio 96 and 97 (Doc. No. 3, 1864, Board of Aldermen). My report of December 31, 1864, folios 14 and 15 (Doc. No. 4, Board of Aldermen, dated January 9, 1865); also folios 170, 171, and 172, same document; the second and third quarterly reports of 1865 most fully state all matters appertaining to this very important subject, to which I beg to refer, and to my special communication dated August 3, 1864.

THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE WHARVES.—In a city owing so much in its importance to commerce, it would be presumed that a jealous care would be exercised over the condition of the wharves and piers, and that merchants would be invited and encouraged in the use of the harbor, by large, commodious slips, with ample depth of water, and safe and extensive piers; in lieu of being driven, as is now the case, to neighboring cities, to find proper facilities and sufficient accommodations to receive or discharge their valuable cargoes.

This subject has been alluded to by me frequently, and recommendations made. The amount allowed in the Tax Levy is entirely inadequate even to keep the piers in proper repair, and such has been the case for several years past; the building of new piers along the water front is consequently rendered impossible, and the extension of pier and wharf accommodation does not keep pace with the growth and improvement of the upper portion of the city.

There has been great lack of economy also in the mode of, and the material used in, building the piers. I have heretofore recommended, as did one of my predecessors, that one or more stone piers be built annually, thus gradually changing the decaying wooden piers and bulkheads to an indestructible material. Wooden piers are continually needing repairs or rebuilding, and are therefore a source of expense, instead of a revenue to the city; and compelling the suspension of commercial business while the work is being done.

I respectfully refer to my report of September 30, 1863 (Doc. No. 19, Board of Aldermen, folios 7 and 8); also to that of December 31, 1863 (Doc. No. 3, Board of Aldermen, folios 7 and 8); also to that of December 31, 1864 (Doc. No. 4, folios 11, 12, 13, 154, 155, 156, and 157.)

THE NECESSITY OF MAKING CONTRACTS.—This subject I alluded to in my report of December 31, 1864 (folios 20 and 21 of Doc. No. 4, Board of Aldermen, 1865); it is certainly false economy to confine the head of an executive department to the expenditure of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars at any one time in such cases, where the immediate protection or repair of city property is required. This restrictive clause of the Charter was intended for a salutary purpose, but it overleaps the object aimed at; if the head of the department in every such case should be required to obtain the sanction and approval of the Mayor before making the expenditure, it would be a sufficient safeguard, irrespective of the trust that should be reposed in the integrity of the chief officer of a department.

CHANGE OF THE FISCAL YEAR.—One of the most embarrassing difficulties to the heads of the various Departments, is the time of the commencement and consequent ending of the fiscal year, it being the same as the calendar year. The appropriations for the year are not legalized until the ordinance which is passed by the Common Council is confirmed by the Legislature of the State, which action is not had until about the middle of April in each year; and, in fact, it is still later before the appropriations are available. As no expenditures can be incurred, unless an appropriation shall have been previously made covering such expense, as designated by the Charter of the city, the head of a department compulsorily violates that Charter, or the property of the city is allowed to suffer. If the fiscal year should commence on the 1st of July, this difficulty would be obviated.

Reference to the subject was made by me in the Fourth Quarterly Report, 1863 (folio 12 of Doc. 3, Board of Aldermen, 1864); also in my Report of December 31, 1864 (folios 19, 20, and 21, Doc. No. 4, Board of Aldermen 1865).

I would respectfully urge the attention of the Common Council to this matter, that a law may be framed and receive the sanction of the Legislature, and the Departments be thus relieved from their present embarrassment.

Respectfully,

CHARLES G. CORNELL,

Street Commissioner.

STREET DEPARTMENT, }
BUREAU OF STREET IMPROVEMENTS, }

NEW YORK, December 30, 1865.

HON. CHARLES G. CORNELL, Street Commissioner :

SIR—In my former reports I have laid several matters of importance before you, but as none of them have been acted upon, I take the liberty to again refer to them. None among all, however, is fraught with more vital consequence than the present state of exterior lines, and the grades of streets and avenues affected thereby. The bulkhead lines established by the Harbor Commissioners vary materially from those by which our present system of grades was governed ; and consequently it is impossible to regulate certain streets down to the river, however desirable these improvements may be. The impetus given by the return of peace, of extending the present limits of water fronts, and the activity in putting up expensive structures along both shores, make it more imperative than ever to harmonize the grades on the East and North rivers with the Harbor Commissioners' lines, or revise these latter where necessary.

While treating of grades, I beg to say that, by act of the last Legislature, the Commissioners of the Central Park were empowered to change the grade of the Eighth avenue between Fifty-ninth and Ninety-third streets, also the grades of the Sixth and Seventh avenues and intersecting streets independently and without concurrence of either the Common Council or the Street Commissioner. It is needless to say that these independent actions must be fruitful of conflict and inconvenience to all concerned. The grade of Eighth avenue, for instance, was raised, between Eighty-seventh and Ninetieth streets, about fifteen feet, regardless of the intersecting streets, which thereby are entirely blocked up and have no access to the avenue.

The Act of April 13, 1857, authorizes the Common Council to widen Broadway, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth streets, to such width as they deem proper, in order to improve the access to the Central Park. As most of the damages will have to be borne by the city, the present time, before any buildings have been erected, appears the most appropriate for this purpose.

I also beg to refer to my former reports with regard to sidewalks and renumbering streets. The latter should be done more systematically, and not in a sporadic manner.

The following streets were numbered and renumbered during the last year by order of the Common Council, viz.: West Twenty-fifth street, West Twenty-first street, West Twenty-sixth street, East Thirteenth street, Second avenue from Forty-second to Sixty-first street, and Bank street.

With these statements and recommendations, I beg to transmit my Fourth Quarterly Report for 1865, exhibiting in detail all the expenditures of this Bureau during the quarter, together with a schedule showing the condition of all appropriations, &c., appertaining to this Bureau at the present time.

Yours, respectfully,

GILBERT M. PLATT,
Superintendent of Street Improvements.

STREET DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF WHARVES, PIERS, AND SLIPS, }

NEW YORK, December 31, 1865.

CHARLES G. CORNELL, Esq., Street Commissioner :

SIR—I beg leave to submit my report of the business affairs of this Bureau for the last quarter of the year ending this date, the details of which are embodied in the accompanying schedules, marked respectively “A” “B” and “C.”

Schedule “A” contains a detailed statement of the amount of expenditures for this quarter, amounting to $52,992.17.

The appropriations upon which vouchers have been drawn, and the amount thereof, during the same period, are shown in Schedule “B.”

Schedule “C” contains a statement of the contracts now in progress, also a statement of the appropriations for the year 1865, and vouchers drawn upon the same, and the balances remaining this day.

During the past year the number of contracts awarded for work done under this Bureau was twenty-three, of which all but three have been completed.

On the 20th of October last I submitted, in answer to a general Circular from your Department, an estimate, in detail, of the amount of appropriation which, in my judgment, would be required to keep the city piers in proper repair during the coming year, the general heads of which are as follows:

Repairs to Piers on North River.....	$118,000 00
Repairs to Piers on East River.....	185,000 00
Dredging Slips	30,000 00
Small Repairs	20,000 00
Making in all.....	$353,000 00

Of the amount here asked for, nothing is included for the erection of new piers, of which there are several needed, both on the North and East rivers, in order to give the mercantile community proper facilities for the transaction of their business.

There are a great many slips, both on the North and East rivers, that need dredging; more especially on the North river, where the mud accumulates very rapidly, and it is almost impossible for vessels to get in or out. At low water there is not more than five to eight feet of water, and, in my opinion, there ought to be a special appropriation for that purpose, aside from the one mentioned in the estimate.

I would recommend that these facts be brought before the Common Council, and that prompt and suitable measures be adopted to have the piers placed in a serviceable condition.

Respectfully,

ROBERT EARL,

Supt. of Wharves, Piers, and Slips.

NEW YORK, December 31, 1865. }

CHARLES G. CORNELL, Esq., Street Commissioner:

SIR—In conformity with instructions contained in your Circular Letter of the 22d instant, I have the honor to report as to the public business transacted in this Bureau during the quarter ending this 31st day of December, 1865, together with summary of the transactions for the year.

The public business performed by this Bureau during the quarter ending December 31, 1865, is nearly twenty one thousand dollars. Vouchers upon the appropriation for Roads and Avenues have been drawn in payment therefor during the quarter, amounting to the sum of twenty thousand eight hundred and ninety-three dollars and sixty-six cents ($20,893,66).

The greater portion of the work done during the quarter has been upon Kingsbridge, Tubby Hook, Fort Washington and Highbridge roads, which have undergone extensive repairs, and are now in good condition.

The great thoroughfares for driving, viz., Harlem lane, Eighth avenue, and Bloomingdale road, from Seventy-first to One Hundred and Twenty-first street, I have had sprinkled during the summer and fall months and I find it gives general satisfaction to the riding public as well as being conducive to the durability of the roads.

The roads generally are in fair condition, and, considering the limited appropriation for this Bureau, the amount of work done during the year will compare favorably with any preceding year.

CHARLES G. CORNELL, Esq.:

SIR—In compliance with instructions contained in Circular Letter of 22d instant, I herewith transmit a detailed statement of the business transacted by this Bureau for the fourth quarter of the present year, together with a general summary of the transactions for the year ending to-day, December 30, 1865.

The various parks and public places under the supervision of this Bureau are in as good a condition as can be expected at this season of the year. All the available force attached to this Department are at present engaged in removing decayed trees, shrubbery, &c., and in trimming and keeping them in the best possible order; also, in having the walks repaired where necessary, and for which it is often requisite for me to employ extra help to facilitate the operations of this Bureau during the severe winter months, as some of the largest parks are great thoroughfares, and it is requisite, in cases of heavy snow-storms, to have the snow and slush removed immediately, to prevent it from freezing.

STREET DEPARTMENT, }
BUREAU OF LAMPS AND GAS, }

NEW YORK, December 31, 1865.

CHARLES G. CORNELL, Esq., Street Commissioner:

SIR—In compliance with the directions contained in your Circular Letter of the 22d instant, I herewith submit my report of the work done and expenditures incurred, in the Bureau of Lamps and Gas, during the three months ending December 31, 1865, together with a summary of the business transacted during the year.

In Exhibit A you will find an abstract of all vouchers certified by me during the quarter. In Exhibit B you will find a statement showing the amounts paid for gas, &c., to the various public markets, offices, &c., and for fitting, repairing, and lighting the public lamps during the quarter, together with the various amounts paid for the same purposes during the three preceding quarters, and the sum total of each for the whole year. In Exhibit C you will find a statement of expenditures, as shown by the certified vouchers of this Bureau, showing a total expenditure during the quarter of two hundred and twenty-six thousand five hundred and eighteen dollars and fifteen cents ($226,518.15), and for the year of five hundred and twenty-one thousand five hundred dollars and two cents ($521,500.02); also an amount of nine thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven dollars and twenty-five cents ($9,857.25), paid by the Comptroller without any vouchers from this Bureau, leaving a balance of sixty-five thousand four hundred and thirty-seven dollars and twenty-nine cents ($65,437.29). You will also find in this statement a list of liabilities against the Bureau, amounting to about three hundred and ninety-two thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars ($392,750), being an excess over the amount on hand of three hundred and twenty-seven thousand three hundred and twelve dollars ($327,312). These liabilities, as you will see, were incurred on account of lighting the public lamps, nearly the whole amount being for lighting the districts between Grand and Seventy-ninth streets, since January 1, 1865; the amount for the district lying between Grand and Forty-second streets is based on the prices fixed upon in the contract with the Manhattan Gas-light Company (twenty-five dollars per annum for each lamp), while the amount for the district between Forty-second and Seventy-ninth streets is for lighting from September 1, 1864, and is made up at the rate of fifty-three dollars per annum, this being the price demanded by the Metropolitan Gas-light Company in their communication under date of August 17, 1864, and as this district has never been under contract, it is to be presumed that the above price will have to be paid, in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeals in the suit of the Harlem Gas-light Company against the city, wherein the price demanded was fifty dollars and the United States Revenue tax. I would also call attention to the fact that the Manhattan Gas-light Company, in January last, gave the notice required by the resolution of the Common Council, approved December 31, 1864, directing the contract to be annulled and a new one made, and that they subsequently gave notice that the price for lighting the public lamps after January 10, 1864, would be at the rate of fifty-three dollars per annum for each lamp lighted by them. If the courts should decide that their contract was legally annulled, then there will be required an additional amount to be added to the liabilities for lighting the public lamps between Grand and Forty-second streets of one hundred and ninety-seven thousand five hundred and seventy-five dollars ($197,575), making a total deficiency in the appropriation for 1865 of five hundred and twenty-four thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven dollars ($524,887).

By a reference to my report of December 31, 1864, it will be seen that the estimate of the amount required for the purposes of lamps and gas for the year 1865 was based upon the prices formerly paid for lighting the public lamps, and that the same amounted to five hundred and thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and sixty dollars ($537,760), and the increase demanded by the gas companies would amount to three hundred and sixty-one thousand one hundred and seventy-nine dollars ($361,179), and that the deficiency in the appropriation for 1864 was eighty-four thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven dollars ($84,867), thus making the total amount required for the year 1865 consist of nine hundred and eighty-three thousand eight hundred and six dollars ($933,806). The amount recommended by the Comptroller, and allowed by the Legislature, was five hundred and thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and sixty dollars ($537,760). The Court of Appeals during the last term of that court, rendered a decision in favor of the Harlem Gas-light Company and against the city; consequently the price of fifty dollars asked for had to be paid, and vouchers have been drawn at that rate for lighting the public lamps in their district from September 1, 1864, to and including November 30, 1865. Vouchers have also been drawn in favor of the New York Gas-light Company, in accordance with that decision, at the rate of forty-five dollars per annum, for lighting the public lamps in that district from November 1, 1864, to and including November 30, 1865, hence the very large deficiency shown above. The Manhattan Gas-light Company have received no pay for lighting the public lamps in their district since January 1, 1865, and nothing has been paid for lighting the public lamps between Forty-second and Seventy-ninth streets since September 1, 1864.

I also submit herewith an estimate of the amount required for the transaction of the business of this Bureau during the year 1866, for which see Exhibit D. The number of lamps specified in the first line of each lamp district was the number which was supposed would be burning on the 1st day of January, 1866, and the additional number on the second line, is an estimate of the number which will probably be required to be fitted up during the year, in compliance with resolutions of the Common Council; while the amount for lighting the public lamps in all the districts, excepting the one situated between Grand and Forty-second streets, are based upon the increased prices in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeals, before referred to, and if the Courts should decide that the contract with the Manhattan Gas-light Company for lighting that portion of the city lying between Grand and Forty-second streets has been legally annulled, then there will be required an additional amount for lighting the lamps in that district, of One hundred and ninety-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($197,500).

Provision should also be made in the tax levy for the deficiency in the appropriation for this year, before referred to.

I also submit a time-table for lighting and extinguishing the public lamps for the year 1866, showing the number of hours burning each night and month of the year, and the total number of hours burning during the whole year, for which see Exhibit E.

The only contract now in operation in this Bureau, providing the same has not been legally annulled, is the one with the Manhattan Gas-light Company, for lighting all that portion of the city lying between Grand and Forty-second streets. The contract with John O'Donnell, dated December 31, 1864, for furnishing fifteen hundred cast-iron lamp-posts, was concluded on the 21st instant,, and final payment has been made thereon.

In compliance with resolutions of the Common Council, and by my direction, gas mains have been laid, and new lamps fitted up during the year, as follows :

THE NEW YORK GAS-LIGHT COMPANY have laid mains in :
 Wall street, from Nassau to William street, about, 450 feet.
 William street, from Fulton to John street. . . . 400 “
 Also a twenty-four inch main from their works at Twenty-first street, and running through Second avenue to Houston street, through Houston to Eldridge street, thence to Stanton street, and thence connecting with the Orchard street line, about one and three-fourths of a mile. Also a twenty-inch main in Canal street, from Orchard street to Forsyth street, about one-fourth of a mile. Some small mains have also been replaced by larger ones.

The total number of miles of mains laid in this district to December 31, 1865, is about 122½ miles.

Old lamps have been taken down and new lamp-posts fitted up in this district, as follows :

Several of the above resolutions have not been complied with, because the streets are not graded, while in others the curb and gutter are not yet set; and in some of the streets no buildings have been erected, and consequently there are no persons residing thereon; and inasmuch as the gas companies have increased the price for lighting the public lamps, thereby causing the estimates for lamps and gas to be raised to an enormous amount, I have deemed it unwise to cause new lamps to be fitted up in such places where, in my opinion, the interests of the public did not imperatively require the same to be done.

In conclusion, I would respectfully call the attention of the incoming Common Council to the recommendations made in previous reports of this Bureau, and especially to my report of 30th of June last. By a perusal of the same, they will find a full and complete history of gas affairs since the first introduction of gas in this city, and the use of the same for lighting the public lamps; and the interests of the city imperatively demand that the suggestions and recommendations therein contained should be considered and acted upon without unnecessary delay. Since that report was made up, the Harlem Gas-light Company have received a judgment in their favor; and, as before stated, that company, as also the New York Gas Company, have been paid up to November 30, at the rate demanded by them, while, at the same time, there is no contract nor specifications by which they can be compelled to furnish any specific quality of gas.

I also desire the attention of the Common Council to be called to a matter which has of late become in vogue, and that is the passing of resolutions giving permission to parties to place business signs on the street lamp-posts. This is getting to be a great wrong, and is causing serious annoyance to the lamp-lighters, and also to many of our citizens. In several cases signs of such magnitude have been fitted on the column of the post, that it is almost an impossibility for the lighter to place his ladder against the same for the purpose of cleaning the lamp; and in other cases permission has been given to persons whose place of business is several hundred feet distant from the post where the sign is placed, while at the same time the lamp is situated in front of a private residence, thereby leaving an impression upon the passer-by, who does not stop to read, that the business is carried on in the premises, and hence the occupant of the house has certainly good ground of complaint. During the past few weeks several citizens have appeared at this office, and complained that signs had been placed upon the lamp-posts in front of their residences; but as the permission of the Common Council had been granted for the same, I was utterly powerless in the matter.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. H. CHARLOCK,
Superintendent of Lamps and Gas.

STREET DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF REPAIRS AND SUPPLIES, }

NEW YORK, December 31, 1865.

CHARLES G. CORNELL, Esq., Street Commissioner:

SIR—In compliance with your directions of the 22d instant, I transmit, in triplicate, a detailed statement of the business transacted in this office during the quarter ending this day, together with a summary of the transactions of the year.

During the year all the buildings in use by the Fire Department have been transferred to the Metropolitan Fire Commissioners, in accordance with the law passed by the Legislature March 30, 1865, and this Bureau discontinued the repairs on such buildings immediately on the decision given by the Court of Appeals as to the constitutionality of the law.

The Legislature, at its last session, reduced the appropriation for this Bureau to the amount of $100,000, $125,000 being taken therefrom in consequence of the passage of the law creating a Metropolitan Fire Department; but in consequence of the constitutionality of the law being appealed from, this Bureau was directed by you to continue to make such repairs as were required, until the decision of the Court of Appeals was given.

The amount expended from the 1st of January to the 1st of July, 1865, for that purpose, was thirty-three thousand three hundred and eighty-three dollars and fourteen cents ($33,383.14), which had to be taken from the amount appropriated for other purposes, and many improvements which were in contemplation, and much needed, had to be neglected for want of means.

The public buildings remaining in charge of this Bureau are principally markets and court-houses, and, while they are in a tenantable condition, many of them are much in need of, and some are suffering for the want of, paint.

I herewith submit a brief statement of the present condition, with such suggestions as may be necessary for their improvement.

MARKETS.

Washington Market, from its general dilapidation, requires a large annual expenditure to keep it in repair. Much money has been expended during the past year, and, although in fair order, much remains to be done; the roofs are still in a bad condition, and the sheds on the Vesey street side require to be rebuilt, which should be done early in the spring. It would make the market more comfortable and add much to its appearance.

Fulton Market is in good condition and only needs ordinary repairs; the Fish Market has been put in good repair during the year.

Catharine Market is in good general repair, but needs painting badly.

Centre Market: the roof of this building is in bad condition and is constantly in want of repairs; the building throughout requires to be put in good condition, having been much abused in consequence of the upper part having been used by the military for the past few years. The outside of the building is much in need of paint.

Essex Market is in good repair, but requires painting.

Tompkins Market: in my last quarterly report for 1864, I recommended that the outside of this building should be painted; the iron is rusting very fast, and unless it is painted soon the damage will be serious. The roof is also in a very bad condition; it being covered with large sheets of zinc, it is constantly expanding and contracting with the change of the weather, which breaks the clinching and causes serious leaks. It is my impression that the evil could be remedied by the placing of suitable ventilators in the roof, to relieve the underside of the roof from the immense heat from the gas.

Clinton Market: this building has been repaired, to some extent, since my last report; but, in consequence of a change in the grade of the streets in the vicinity, it will require considerable alterations to the floors and flagging of the sheds outside of the market, requiring an expenditure of more money than is authorized by this Department.

Union Market is in good repair, but is much in need of painting; the floors, doors, sashes, &c., have been thoroughly overhauled during the past month.

Jefferson, Franklin, and Gouverneur Markets, are in good condition, requiring ordinary repairs and some painting.

The City Hall, Hall of Records, and other buildings in the Park that are required to be kept in order by the city are in good condition, and only need such repairs as the usual wear and tear demand.

JUDICIAL COURTS.

Since my last annual report, the First District Court rooms have been fitted up, suitable for business of the Court and Clerks, and are in good condition.

Second District Court-rooms have been thoroughly overhauled and repainted, and are in excellent order.

Third District Court-rooms are in good order, with the exception of painting, which is much needed.

Fourth District Court-rooms are in good condition.

Fifth District Court-rooms have been recently fitted up in the building formerly occupied by Engine Company No. 41, and are in excellent condition.

The rooms occupied by the Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth District Courts are in good condition, and require but little to be done to them.

The Police Court-rooms have all been put in excellent repair during the past year, and do not require much repairing, except painting of the exterior of the buildings occupied by the Second and Third Districts, which should be done as soon as possible.

DOCUMENT No. 9.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

FEBRUARY 1, 1866.

The following communication, being the Ninth Annual Report of the Board of Central Park Commissioners, comprising a full report of their proceedings, with a detailed statement of their receipts and expenditures, during the year 1865, was received, laid on the table, and the usual number of copies directed to be printed in Document form.

D. T. VALENTINE,

Clerk.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of New York :

THE Board of Commissioners of the Central Park respectfully presents this, its report for the year ending with the 31st day of December, 1865.

The progress made in the work at the Park is principally exhibited in the completion of structures and grounds previously commenced, and in that branch of operations that may properly be classed under the head of necessities.

To this class belong the completion of the walks and drive in the northerly portion of the Park, the bridges over or under which they are carried, the shaping of the surface of the ground, and the variety of work comprehended in the treatment of the deep valley, that is a peculiarly marked feature of this part of the Park, and the waters that pass through it; "the Loch," its rustic stone dam and waterfall, the formation of its varied shore of bays and promontories; the excavation of the basin for the larger sheet of water, known as the Harlem Lake, the construction of its banks and dam, and the preparation of the ground to retain the water. Of structures in masonry, the chief work of the year has been done upon the exterior wall, of which the following quantities are complete:

Of retaining-wall.....	2,392	cubic yards
" coping for wall.....	13	" "
" single-faced wall.....	3,909	" "
" two-faced wall.....	569	" "
" coping for two-faced wall.....	2,840	lineal feet.

The excavation of rock for the exterior wall is mainly completed, unless the change of the grade of the Eighth avenue should develop other work of this character. Of the work in progress when the year began, Bridge No. 28, north of the Grand Reservoir, and the stone work of Bridge No. 24, near the south gate-house, are nearly complete; the iron work of the latter bridge is under contract.

The change by the Croton Aqueduct Department of the surface of the walk about the Grand Reservoir has rendered it more acceptable for the use of visitors, and it now fulfills the intention of this Board as an important and interesting portion of the system of walks.

22 $\frac{81}{1000}$ acres of land have been sown to grass during the year ; 7,462 feet of drain pipe, 4,538 feet of till-drainage, and 1,968 feet of Croton water pipe have been laid, and 4 hydrants and 2 stop-cocks set.

The stone pedestals and the standards, intended to support the gilded cages that are interposed in the line of the foliage of the hedge of English yew, are complete, and will, it is believed, fittingly and acceptably connect the ornamental masonry of the Terrace with the regular lines of the Mall.

It has been deemed very desirable that this central part of the Park should be brought to completion as early as was practicable. Thousands of people are attracted by the music and the play of the waters of the fountains. The convenience of the seats and of the drinking fountains in this vicinity are highly appreciated and generally availed of.

Encaustic tile for portions of the ceiling of the Terrace, and for its floor, are in process of manufacture ; 956 movable seats, capable of accommodating 4,364 persons, at one time, have been provided and distributed about the Park.

Nine fixed rustic seats have been constructed during the year, of various designs, capable of accommodating about 100 persons. Eleven rustic arbors and summer-houses have been completed, with seating accommodations for 225 persons. This class of structures is very generally used ; the adaptability of rustic woodwork to the purposes of the Park renders its further use desirable.

Six urinals and six water-closets have been constructed during the year, making, in all now on the Park, twenty-three of these structures.

The work of planting has progressed as the new ground was prepared ; 8,811 trees, shrubs and plants were planted during the year. Of these, 4,320 were from the nurseries of the Park.

There have been 1,515 square feet of awning added during the past year to that previously supplied, the total being now 4,317 square feet, sufficient to shelter about 3,000 persons at one time.

Nine drinking fountains have been provided during the past year ; adding them to those previously established, gives twenty-seven as the whole number.

The Board has not deemed it best to enter upon any considerable expenditures for structures other than those coming under the class previously mentioned.

The prices for skilled labor, and for materials, have generally ruled higher than in any previous year.

The stocks of the city, from which the means of the Board are derived, have met with heavy and dull sale, and the means required for carrying on the more necessary work have been irregularly received.

Although the market rates for labor and material are high, yet it is doubtful whether the operative or the material man finds his net savings any larger than when these prices were much less.

In the existing state of things one dollar of the avails of an accumulating city debt yields in value of work and materials just about half of what it did in the normal condition of financial affairs.

The total expenditure on construction for the year was $366,915.38, being a reduction of $85,674.85 as compared with the previous year, notwithstanding the great increase of prices. A few statistics of the work of construction follow :

The Drive and Ride are completed. Of the Drive there was completed previous to January 1, 1865, 9 miles 176 feet, completed during 1865, 2,389 feet, or $9\frac{485}{1000}$ miles in all. Of the Bridle Road, completed previous to January 1, 1865, $5\frac{93}{1000}$ miles. Of the walks, completed previous to January 1, 1865, 23 miles 1,408 feet; completed during 1865, 2 miles 1,906 feet, or $25\frac{828}{1000}$ miles in all.

A large portion of the exterior wall, as also the gates and their appurtenances for eighteen entrances to the Park from the adjacent avenues and streets remain to be completed.

Four of these entrances are on Fifty-ninth street,

Four on One Hundred and Tenth street,

Five on the Eighth avenue, and Five on the Fifth avenue.

A space of ten feet in width south of, and adjacent to, the southerly line of One Hundred and Tenth street has been set apart, and the filling nearly completed to provide an additional width to the southerly walk of One Hundred and Tenth street; thus making that walk between the Fifth and Eighth avenues twenty-five feet in width.

The walk along the southerly boundary of the Park is forty feet in width, and that on Fifth and Eighth avenues thirty feet.

The portion of the walk on the Fifth avenue below Transverse Road No. 1 has this year been planted with elms. These walks are intended to form a continuous shaded avenue around the whole Park.

The sewer through Seventy-fourth street, from the Fifth avenue to the East river, has been commenced, but no work has been done on the sewer in One Hundred and Tenth street, the ordinance for constructing which was passed May 17, 1865. This last sewer is much required to take away offensive water that will otherwise find its way into the Harlem Lake.

The grading of the Fifth avenue above Ninetieth street is not yet completed, though the work was let August 17, 1859.

The grading of One Hundred and Tenth street is still incomplete, and up to this time, with perhaps a single block at Fifty-ninth street and Fifth and Eighth avenue entrances, no avenue or street bordering the Park is in a fit condition for an approach to it.

The passage by your Honorable Body, at the close of the year, of an ordinance to provide for the flagging of the full width of the sidewalks of the Fifth avenue up to Sixtieth street, will afford greater facilities for the large number of pedestrians that go to the Park by that avenue.

The paving of Fifty-ninth street, from the Fifth to the Eighth avenue, is much required; an ordinance for this purpose was adopted by your Honorable Body on the 22d of March, 1865, but the work has not yet been commenced.

The means of drainage of the surface water from that portion of the Park formerly known as Manhattan square are much needed, in order that improvements in the ground may be commenced. The effective drainage of the neighborhood will doubtless add much to its salubrity.

The Board deems it very important that this drainage should proceed without delay. It is understood to be the plan of the Croton Aqueduct Department to take the water of this area towards the North river, by a sewer through Seventy-fifth street.

Eighty-first street, bounding this square on the north has been opened, and the work of grading it has been advertised, but it is understood the cost of the work will exceed one-half of the assessed value of the lands, and for that reason the contract has not been awarded.

Seventy-seventh street, the southerly boundary of the square, has been declared opened during the past year, and a resolution has been passed by your Honorable Body to grade this street from Eighth avenue to Broadway, but the work of grading has not yet commenced.

The contract for working the Ninth avenue was originally awarded December 6, 1860, but the work is yet far from completion.

The grade of the Eighth avenue, along the east side of the square, having been changed, the work of filling it remains to be done, and will, it is hoped, be soon proceeded with by the Street Department having it in charge. It will be seen that neither one of the avenues or streets bounding this square is completed. Unless they are soon put under contract, several years must elapse before it can be approached on either side.

The plans for laying it out, though not yet perfected, are under consideration ; the intention at present being to connect the Square with the Park by one or more passages under or over the avenue ; by this means giving convenient access to the Zoological Garden, which will probably, in part at least, be located on this square.

The Board has given the necessary assent to laying of two pipes of six feet in diameter, into the Park, opposite the block between Eighty-fifth street and Eighty-sixth street, to conduct the Croton water into the old Reservoir. This arrangement dispenses with the line of the old Aqueduct west of the Eighth avenue, below Ninety-second street, and brings the water in pipes from the Aqueduct in that street to the point in the Park where it connects with the old line of the Aqueduct.

The current expenses have been augmented by the additional areas of roads and walks and grounds added to the completed work of the year, as well as by the general increase of prices.

The accounts of the expenses of the maintenance of the Park were several years since classified for the purpose of convenience, and to secure and preserve their correct record in detail.

This classification comprehends the following heads:

- | | |
|---------------------|----------------------|
| 1 Roads. | 9 Thorough Drainage. |
| 2 Walks. | 10 Traffic Roads. |
| 3 Plantations. | 11 Masonry. |
| 4 Turf. | 12 Tools. |
| 5 Water. | 13 Buildings. |
| 6 Ice. | 14 Miscellaneous. |
| 7 Surface Drainage. | 15 Gate-keepers. |
| 8 Irrigation. | 16 Park-keepers. |

It will be readily seen that such a system must prove useful in carrying on a work involving the employment and use of such a variety of labor and materials. By this means an account of the expenses of any branch of the work, such as the cost of labor and the quantities and value of the materials thereon, is always available for purposes of comparison.

The comprehensiveness of these accounts, each separate and distinct in themselves, may be inferred from the following examples:

ROADS AND WALKS constitute a very important branch of the Park work.

These are required to be in the best condition throughout, and from the constant use to which they are subjected, require much labor and material to keep them in proper order. During the past year nearly 9,000 cubic yards of gravel were required to keep them in proper condition. Under these heads are included the repair to road-beds, breaking stone for road metal, surfacing with gravel or other material, rolling, care, and repairs of road and walk, drainage, cleaning silt basins and the ordinary cleaning of the roads and walks.

PLANTATIONS include the care of the soils, dressing, manuring and generally renewing and maintaining their fertilizing properties, the better to promote the growth of and protect the young and tender plants.

TURF includes the proper care of the lawns, rolling the sod, cutting and removing the grass.

WATER includes the expense of the care and cleaning of the ornamental waters of the Park, the Lakes and Ponds.

ICE includes the expenses incident to the care of the ice, cleaning and planing, and its illumination at night, and the erection of the houses for the accommodation of the public during the skating season.

SURFACE DRAINAGE, differing in its functions from the thorough drainage, comprehends the repairs and cleaning of the general system of sewers and basins (exclusive of those used in roads and walks) required for carrying off the surface water, and the removal of the silt deposited in the basins.

IRRIGATION comprehends the cost of labor and materials used in the care and repairs of the water-works, as hydrants stop-cocks, water-pipe, fountains and the various mechanical appliances and implements necessary for the proper and economical supply, transportation and distribution of the water throughout the Park, required for sprinkling the roads, drives and walks, watering the turf, trees, shrubs and plants, and for the drinking-stations distributed about the Park.

THOROUGH DRAINAGE comprehends the expenses incident to the care and repair of the extensive system of drainage; the intricate ramifications of which extend over the whole area of the Park.

In this branch is required the judgment and experience of skilled labor and a familiarity with the system. This head includes the cleaning of the basins at proper times when silt is deposited, so that no part of the system may become "choked" or disarranged, as well as the care and precautions to be observed in protracted stormy weather, to guard against breakage, overflow, or other casualties.

TRAFFIC ROADS include expenses incident to the care, repairs, and keeping in proper order for public convenience the transverse roads.

MASONRY includes the expenses of repairs required on the Park bridges and of all mason and stone work of the buildings.

TOOLS include the making and repairing of implements of all kinds used on the Park.

BUILDINGS include the cost and labor, and materials used in their proper care and repair.

PARK AND GATE-KEEPERS include the wages, cost of uniform, and such incidental expenses as appropriately pertain to these heads.

A miscellaneous account is required to systematize a class of expenditures not properly chargeable to any of the preceding heads.

The experience of several years shows that the annual sum provided for the expense of maintaining the Park, to wit, $150,000, is, under the existing state of things, insufficient for the purpose, and that it will be much more convenient to have the sum increased by legislation than to depend upon an annual application to meet a deficiency.

It will be seen that the principal item of this class of expenses is for Park and Gate-keepers—amounting, together with their uniforms, to $59,718.80.

It may be questioned whether, in a correct distribution of expenditures, for the purposes of comparison, the cost of the Park-keepers should be thrown upon the fund for maintaining the Park. There is no doubt that, as their duties are essentially different from those of the general Police force of the city, they are more useful as at present organized; but, as the area constituting the Park would require police supervision, the main portion of the expense would have to be incurred whether this area were used as a Park or otherwise. The above-mentioned sum covers the expense of this service over an area of 843 acres.

The Park-keepers, fifty in number, are invested with Police powers, and form the patrol of the Park night and day. Twenty-five Gate-keepers, uniformed and un-uniformed, are posted at the gates to enforce the ordinances of the Park respecting the admission of vehicles, and to preserve order about the gates; on special days, when large numbers are at the Park, a portion of the Gate-keepers are required to aid in keeping order on the roads and at other points.

Improved temporary station accommodations have been provided for the Keepers at the Arsenal building.

The subjoined table shows the NUMBER OF ARRESTS on the Park for the past three years :

These arrests were for the following causes :

Fined ten dollars and less each.....	61
Bound over for trial.....	1
Sent to the Almshouse.....	1
Temporarily committed.....	7
Discharged with reprimand, or otherwise.....	45
TOTAL.....	115

In addition to these arrests, it is the duty of the Keepers to afford information to visitors, to render aid in case of accidents, and to check slight offenses.

They are regularly instructed in their duties, and exercised in such portions of the military drill as are appropriate and likely to prove serviceable to them in the discharge of their duties.

Promotions are made from the un-uniformed Gate-keepers to the uniformed Gate-keepers, and from the Gate-keepers to the Park-keepers. No removals or discharges are made except for good cause, after trial.

The Commissioners of the Park are gratified to be able to state that the number of visitors to the Park continues to increase with each year.

Allowing an average of three persons to each vehicle passing into the Park, the following will show approximately the number of persons who have entered the Park for the past four years :

1862.....	4,195,515
1863.....	4,327,409
1864.....	5,740,079
1865.....	7,593,139

The results are believed to be nearly correct ; the probability is that they are under rather than over-stated.

*The following table gives the number of visitors at the Park during each month in the year,

The reports of the Boat service indicate an increased demand.

The price for their use has been kept at the original low rate, notwithstanding the augmented expenses of their operation.

These rates are fixed rather for public accommodation, than to secure the highest revenue.

There are nineteen boats on the Lake, ordinarily a sufficient number, but quite insufficient on afternoons when there are any special attractions. In this, as in other classes of service of the Park, the public demand is at certain hours entirely disproportionate to that of other hours.

As the Lake affords safe opportunity for boys to learn to row, two small boats have been added for their special use.

The number carried in the boats is shown in the following table:

The subjoined table shows the statistics of the BOAT service for 1865.

TOTAL NUMBER OF MUSIC DAYS.

During this year there have been thirty of these concerts, more than ever before given in any one year. On eight of these days the music consisted of a well-selected cornet band of ten persons in a boat moving about the Lake, the music of which, caught by the grateful ear as it was wafted by the breeze over the waters and through the leafy shades, might be heard from the Terrace, the Circle, the Drive, the summer-houses and the walks of the Ramble.

The numbers attending the music from the Pavilion on the Mall have not decreased. The Band has, during the past year, been enlarged by the addition of six performers.

This entertainment on Saturday afternoons is now understood to be one of the fixed institutions of the city, and as such is looked forward to and attended by hundreds of thousands of citizens and strangers.

Among these numbers will, of course, be found very varying tastes. A large class prefer the drum and fife to all other music; these are unreserved in the expression of their preference. Another class prefers the softer and more delicate strains. Others would remove the popular airs that are on the programme; while the mass listens with some degree of impatience to what is called classic music. These prominent features of the public taste are all entitled to respect. The ear cannot select from the various combinations of sounds those alone that are especially agreeable; it must receive all that strike its sensitive organization. The programme is so constructed as to give each class a fair share of its favorite music, without admitting anything not in keeping with the standard of all the surroundings of the Park.

It is desired to please the scholar in music as well as the less experienced listener. While the aim is, on the whole, to be a little in advance of the average taste, the programme presents contrasts sustaining the interest without tiring with monotony.

It is very difficult to secure in the open air the heavy volume of sound that many seem to desire. A thousand instruments in an open space, without walls or houses or canopy of foliage to confine and give resonance to the sound, will not equal the effect produced by forty in a room or quiet street.

A critical observer of all the open-air bands of any note in Europe, finds that few of them are constructed on musical principles ; they are merely the bringing together of two or three bands without just balance of all the parts.

The Commissioners of the Park intend that the Band shall be without superior, it is simply a question of expense in bringing about the result. The Band as now composed comprises exceedingly capable and accomplished performers, and no effort will be spared to improve the quality of the music and the conveniences for the thousands who so heartily express their satisfaction at what has already been done.

The number of days on which there was skating on the Park in the winter of 1864-'65, was, with one exception, greater than in any year of the history of the Park. The expense of cleaning the ice, was much increased by reason of the unusual number of falls of snow and mild rains, which, honey-combing the ice, render it necessary for skating to make a new surface. All economical expedients for accomplishing this work are resorted to ; the snow, sometimes over a foot in depth, is to be carried from a surface of twenty-seven acres of ice, a space three times as large as Washington square, and nine times as large as Union square. The bulk of the snow is removed by the use of horses, but there remains a portion that is only removable by hand-sweeping.

A fall of twelve vertical inches depth, would give not far from 1,100,000 cubic feet of snow.

During the skating season comprising the month of December, 1864, and the months of January and February 1865, there were fourteen snow-storms ; giving an aggregate depth of $45\frac{1}{2}$ inches, or an average depth for each fall of snow of $3\frac{1}{3}$ inches.

This would give 160,134 cubic feet of snow per acre, or taking the whole area (twenty-seven acres) of ice, comprising the several lakes and ponds of the Park, then in use, would give a total of four million three hundred and twenty-three thousand six hundred and twenty solid feet of snow to be cleared from these lakes and ponds, assuming them to have been covered with ice during all these periods.

The dimensions of this mass of snow, placed in the form of a cube, would be one hundred and sixty-three feet, nearly, in height, breadth, and depth, or equaling in bulk a body seven times as large as St. Paul's Church.

The Board intends, during the next year, to maintain as perfect a system of meteorological observations as is practicable, in the hope that, over an area like the Park, facts may thus be obtained that will be of general scientific interest.

The subjoined table shows the days on which there was skating on the lakes during the past seven years.

The need of suitable places at which refreshments can be obtained by visitors at the Park is much felt, and the Board has taken pains to supply the demand by such temporary expedients as were deemed best calculated to answer the end.

The buildings at Mount St. Vincent, having been for more than three years occupied as a hospital for wounded soldiers, were vacated in the month of September last. Certain expenditures made by the Board to fit them for a hospital when required by the Government on an emergency have not yet been refunded.

A portion of these buildings have been put in condition, and will soon be ready for use as a place of refreshment. The Board will proceed with the erection of at least one other house of refreshment, commensurate with the extent of the demand that is likely to arise for its use; in connection with it, it is proposed to provide a spacious hall and a winter garden.

The Board has, from the commencement of its operations, endeavored to afford the public opportunities for the use of the Park as early as practicable. In pursuance of this policy, one portion of the grounds after another has from time to time been opened for use as it was brought to a proper condition, until these portions now comprise, with but few and inconsiderable exceptions, the entire surface of the Park, including the drive, the ride, the walk, and the waters.

The unfinished condition of the avenues and streets surrounding the Park, not under the jurisdiction of the Board, has, to a considerable extent, embarrassed the progress of the work.

The surface operations being mainly complete, the Board will proceed with the construction of the inclosing wall, and the early development of such structures and institutions of special character as are appropriate to the grounds, and necessary to their highest utility. The day is remote when new features of popular attraction cannot be added with advantage.

No accident has happened during the past year involving the loss of life or limb of any person employed on the Park ; neither, of the large number of visitors, has any loss of life or other casualties occurred that can be traced to a want of care or efficiency in the enforcement of the rules of the Park. The Board deems it due to itself to express its conviction of the importance of a well-regulated system of carriages to carry persons about the Park at reasonable rates, and to state for the information of strangers, that it is not responsible for the control and management of the carriages that stand for hire at the entrances.

The following ordinances have been adopted and published, as required by the law :

“The Board of Commissioners of the Central Park do ordain as follows :

“No fire-engine, hook and ladder, cart, hose, truck, or other machine on wheels, commonly used for the extinguishing of fire, shall be allowed on any part of the Central Park, except the transverse roads, without the previous consent of the Comptroller of the Park.

“No funeral procession, or hearse, or other vehicle or person carrying the body of a deceased person, shall be allowed on any part of the Central Park, except upon the Transverse roads.

"No person, except in the employ of the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, shall light, make, or use any fire upon the Central Park.

"No person on foot shall go upon the grass, lawn, or turf of the Central Park, except when and where the word 'Common' is posted, indicating that persons are at liberty at that time and place to go on the grass."

Contributions to the Park collections of art and natural history continue undiminished. The donations of living animals of rare and interesting character have been numerous and valuable.

A detailed schedule of these gifts will be found in Appendix B.

A committee of gentlemen representing the Scotch residents of the city, as an evidence of their interest in the adornment of the Park and of respect for the genius of the artist, have presented to the Park a group of life-size illustrative of the character of Burns' celebrated song, "Auld Lang Syne." It is the work of Robert Thompson, a sculptor of Scotch birth, executed in New Brunswick stone. Its pleasing associations and characteristics are well calculated to attract attention.

It was specially agreeable to the Commissioners to assign a place on the Park for this group, as its author was for several years employed on the Park as a stone-cutter, in the execution of the artistic stone work of the Terrace.

A much-respected merchant, resident in Liverpool, Stephen B. Guion, Esq., giving expression to a long-cherished purpose to aid, in some degree, the embellishment of this, his native city, has presented, for the adornment of the Park grounds and for the public gratification, a statue in bronze, emblematic of "Commerce," the work of Fesquet, of Paris. It represents an erect draped female figure, with the castellated crown, the leaves and fruit of the maize entwined in her hair, the caduceus in her left hand, and her right resting on a rudder that, with the emblems of mechanical and agricultural life, are at her feet. This figure, at once commanding and expressive, a little over eight feet in height, stands on an appropriate pedestal of granite, of about seven feet in height.

Mr. Guion has made no condition or intimation that his name be put upon or in any way connected with his magnificent gift; it was, on the contrary, understood to be his desire that the work should quietly take its place in the Park without any personal reference to its donor.

A casual word, dropped at the studio of the artist in Paris, enabled the Commissioners to make to Mr. Guion an acknowledgment of their appreciation of the circumstances that have rendered the presentation of this new object of interest eminently worthy of emulation.

On opening the cases containing the series of casts of the works of the sculptor Crawford, presented several years since to the Park, they were found very much fractured.

The parts having been carefully preserved and brought together by a practical hand, now form a conspicuous part of a collection of works of art and of natural history, occupying the greater part of the first floor of the building formerly known as the State Arsenal. This gallery, inexpensively arranged, but as well as the temporary character of the accommodations will admit, has been visited by tens of thousands.

It is at times so thronged with visitors as to render it impossible to move about the hall with comfort.

The Commissioners of the Park have no doubt that very extensive galleries would be filled with works of art if the appropriate fire-proof buildings were erected.

The statue of Flora, by Crawford, presented by the late R. K. Haight, Esq., has not yet been delivered at the Park.

The following table shows a classification of the living animals now in the Park :

REPTILIA.

Order, Chelonia.....	17 specimens.
“ Sauria.....	6 “

Making a total of.....792 specimens.

A detailed statement of these animals is given in Appendix A.

In addition to these there are probably more than one hundred specimens of imported birds, besides large numbers of native birds and animals. The sparrows, to which allusion was made in the last report, are steadily increasing, and may be considered to be well acclimated.

These animals are generally in good condition, notwithstanding their present unsatisfactory accommodations. They are the occasion of a considerable expenditure of money for their care and sustenance.

The statement of the condition of all the animals donated to the Park during the past year, found in Appendix B, shows the loss of several specimens, but it is believed that the percentage of loss is not greater than that shown by the necrological record of zoological establishments comprehending much greater conveniences than those now provided by the temporary accommodations of the Park.

The collection of eagles is larger than any other known.

The flock of Southdown sheep has largely increased, and is a very great attraction on the lawns.

The three Cape buffaloes are in fine condition, and are very rare, probably the only specimens on this continent. The swans thrive and increase slowly. The deer, as well as other animals, are much worried by the dogs with which the neighborhood abounds, that steal in at night and do work of irreparable destruction in the space of a few moments.

The Board has not changed its opinion as to the desirability of the establishment of a Zoological Garden equal to the demands of a city like our own. Circumstances not under its control have delayed the commencement of the work, but each year develops new arguments in its favor.

The main question that underlies the building up of such an establishment is a pecuniary one. Shall it be a source of income to provide for its own support, or shall it be free to all desiring to visit it, and find the means of its support from the general fund provided by taxation for the support of the Park? or shall it be partially free and partially on the pay system? Upon the determination of this question the whole scheme depends, and its plan will be determined accordingly.

By requiring a small admission fee every day in the week except one, and making that one day free, these gardens, with proper management, will become a valuable aid in the public educational system of the city, and, at the same time, do much toward their own support. To put an establishment of the character proposed on a proper footing, will require a great expenditure. The Board will, in laying the foundation, look to a development in the interests of science and popular gratification; at least, as extensive as any existing institution.

A Tabulated Statement of the Vertebratæ animals of North America, that will afford some idea of the extent of provision that will be required in these gardens will be found in Appendix E.

The Board, in compliance with the provisions of an act passed March 25, 1862, made to the New York Historical Society a conditional appropriation of certain grounds about the Arsenal building for the purposes of establishing and maintaining therein, by the said society, a museum of antiquities and science, and a gallery of art. It is understood that the society is now perfecting a plan for the necessary buildings, that shall be creditable to the Park and to the city. In the year 1864 an association of gentlemen connected with the drama made application for a site upon which to erect a monument to Shakespeare. The Board acceded to the request, and appropriated for this purpose a site between the two most southerly elms of the easterly row on the Mall, subject to the ordinances and rules provided, or to be provided, for the control and preservation of statuary and monumental structures.

The form of authorization of this statue is shown in Appendix D.

The Board are happy to learn that, by the liberality of citizens of New York, a considerable proportion of the requisite fund has been secured, and that it is probable the work will be shortly in the hands of the artist. This statue will be the first of an out-door gallery, to be placed, as they may be accepted, between the elms on each side of the Mall.

In furtherance of an intention expressed in a previous report, the Board has afforded opportunities to the students of the Free Academy, and to boys of the public schools, to play at cricket and base-ball upon the playground. The St. George Cricket Club have kindly volunteered the services of their professional players, to give to these students instructions in the art of playing cricket, and many of them have availed themselves of the offer.

It will be obviously impracticable to furnish grounds for the numerous ball clubs that are desirous of playing on the Park.

It seems difficult for them to realize that the large open surface of turf, that to the cultivated taste is among the most attractive features of the Park, can have any other use than that of a playground.

Nothing is more certain than that the beauty of these lawns would soon be lost, and that they would be rendered disagreeable objects, if these games were to be constantly played upon them.

If the play of one club is allowed, others will demand the same privilege; and these clubs are so numerous, that if space were provided for the ordinary practice of their games, it would tend to depreciate the attractions of the Park to the far greater number, who visit it for the refined pleasures that its landscape affords to those who are sensitive to natural beauties.

These spacious open glades will, with the growth of each successive year, present a more marked and grateful contrast with the planted parts of the grounds.

It is not to be inferred that they are wastes without use because they are not walked upon; both the plantation and the wide sweep of the lawn are essential to the completeness and variety of the scene; their largest use is in the gratification they afford to those fitted for enjoyment of this nature; and this use is not to be diminished to accommodate sports, of themselves innocent and worthy of encouragement but participated in by comparatively few persons.

In Appendix B will be found a statement in detail of all the donations to the Board for the embellishment of the Park.

Works under the Jurisdiction of the Board beyond the limits of the Park.

By the act passed April 27, 1865, chapter 581, the part of the Croton Aqueduct south of Ninety-second street and west of the Eighth avenue was discontinued, and the Croton Aqueduct Department was directed to construct a branch aqueduct, or to lay iron pipes from the present line of the Croton Aqueduct at some point between the westerly line of the Eighth avenue and the new Reservoir to the old Reservoir, through the Eighth avenue and the Central Park, but such part of the same as may be in the Central Park to be on such line and on such conditions as the Commissioners of the Park shall approve.

The Croton Aqueduct Department has concluded to lay two lines of iron pipe instead of making a branch aqueduct, and a plan submitted by that department to the Commissioners of the Park, of the proposed line of pipe, has been approved, so far as the same is within the Central Park. The same act established the grade of the Eighth avenue between Fifty-ninth and Ninety-third streets, and contains the following provision :

"Provided, however, that the Commissioners of the Central Park shall, within three months after the passage of this act, approve of the grade hereby authorized. The said Commissioners may, however, approve of such part of the grade hereby authorized as is between any two points at which the said grade and the present grade intersect, and reject the grade between any or all of the other intersecting points; or the said Commissioners may, with the consent of the owners of a majority of the lineal feet of the front of the lots on the westerly side of the Eighth avenue, between any two points at which the grade hereby authorized and the present grade intersect, prescribe and establish any other grade between such intersecting points; and when the grade of the said avenue is finally established, in pursuance of the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the Central Park to prepare and certify a map or profile of the grades so established, and file the same in the office of the Street Commissioner of the City of New York."

It is made the duty of the Street Commissioner, as soon as the said map or profile is filed in his office, to proceed forthwith to regulate the said avenue in conformity with the grade so established.

The Board approved of parts of the grade authorized by said act, and rejected other parts; and, with the consent of the owners of a majority of the lineal feet of the front of the lots on the west side of the Eighth avenue between certain points, established other grades.

The profile required by the act has been duly filed in the Street Commissioner's office.

In a previous report the Board alluded to the question of the removal of the Aqueduct at Eighty-sixth street. Before the grade could be satisfactorily determined repeated allusions have been made in its reports to the desirability of a change in the grade of portions of this avenue.

It will be much improved by the grade now established, but it will be the occasion of a considerable additional cost in readjusting the border of the Park, in resetting a portion of the wall that is already built, and in regrading the western ends of Transverse Roads Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

The widening of the Sixth avenue from the north end of the Park to Harlem river.

The necessary application to the Supreme Court for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the matter of widening of the Sixth avenue, from One Hundred and Tenth street to the Harlem river, was executed on behalf of this Board in July last, and on the 5th of August Messrs. John Anderson, Jonathan W. Allen and Nicholas Walsh were appointed such Commissioners by the Supreme Court. The Board now awaits their report.

Widening Seventh avenue from the Park to the Harlem river.

The report of Messrs. Shepherd Knapp, John Anderson Charles A. Lamont, Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court to widen this avenue was confirmed by the Court on the 24th of June, 1865.

The Board took prompt measures to have the necessary surveys made over the whole line. It was found that as the grade had been fixed by the city authorities from One Hundred and Tenth street to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, the assent of two-thirds of the owners of fronts fronts on the avenue in that distance would be required to change it.

Public notice was therefore given in the newspapers of a proposed alteration of the grade from One Hundred and Tenth street to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, and of fixing the grade from One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street to the Harlem river.

The assent of the necessary two-thirds of the owners has been obtained; the Board on the first of December, 1865, changed the grade of the avenue from One Hundred and Tenth street to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, and established the grade from that point to the river.

The plan for finishing the surface of this avenue has not yet been settled, nor has the mode of its drainage nor the question of material of which the roadway shall be composed.

Three plans have been suggested for the improvement of this avenue; the one contemplates a bridle road or horseback ride of thirty feet in width, through the centre of the avenue, with a row of trees on each side, two carriage-ways of thirty-eight feet each in width, sidewalks of twenty-two feet in width, and a line of trees at each curb.

Another plan is to make a grass-plat with two rows of trees in the centre of the avenue of twenty feet wide, two carriage-ways of forty-five feet wide each, and two sidewalks of twenty feet each.

The third comprehends a carriage-way of eighty feet in width, sidewalks each twenty feet, and courtyards of fifteen feet wide.

The Board hopes to be able to determine these unsettled questions early in the coming year, and to proceed with the work of construction, and will endeavor, in compliance with its original intention, to give as much of a rural character to these improvements as will be consistent with their use as an avenue of travel, and with convenient access for persons and supplies to the dwellings that will soon be erected upon it. The expense of working the avenue will, of course, be much increased by its additional width, and from the further fact that, for more than one-half of a mile near its northerly end, the rock excavation is very heavy, by reason of the ground rising some sixty-five feet above tide-water in the line of the avenue, and will require an average cutting of about twenty feet, while on either side the land lies but few feet above tide-water.

It will be the aim of the Board to have the sewers, the gas and water pipes laid in such manner as to render any subsequent disturbance of the avenue unnecessary.

The Island above One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street.

The act imposing this duty upon the Board was passed April 24, 1865. As it was understood that a topographical survey of this ground had already been made under the direction of the Commissioners having the matter previously in charge, it was deemed essential, as a matter of economy both of time and money, to be able to secure them. Sundry maps, surveys, &c., were, in compliance with the law, received by the Board in the month of July last.

Much time has been given to the consideration of this subject, and to a detailed examination of the ground, with the view of gaining the information necessary to proceed intelligently with the work as early as practicable.

The same act provided for the laying out of a road or public drive "running from the northerly portion of the Sixth or Seventh avenue, in a generally northerly or northwesterly direction, upon the easterly or Harlem river side of the city, as far north as the said Commissioners may determine, thence in a general westerly direction to or near the Hudson river, and thence in a general southerly and southeasterly direction along the westerly or Hudson river side of the city, until such road or public drive shall enter the Central Park at or near the junction of Bloomingdale road, Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street; such road to follow the course of the Bloomingdale road below One Hundred and Sixth street, whenever the Commissioners shall deem such course advantageous."

The surveys of a proposed line of this road are well advanced, and the Board trusts early in the coming year to determine its course and grades.

In compliance with the provisions of the law, several claims against the previously existing Commission, as shown in detail in the Treasurer's statement, have been paid.

The Treasurer's accounts, herewith submitted, show the expenditures of the past year in detail, and are accompanied by a summary of receipts and expenditures for the same period, and by a statement of the receipts and expenditures since the organization of the Board.

Dated NEW YORK, December 30, 1865.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY G. STEBBINS,

President of the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park.

ANDREW H. GREEN,

Comptroller of the Park.

“ “ One Stone Idol, presented by Capt. John M. Dow.

Aug. 9. One Stone Idol, presented by Hon. E. O. Crosby, who accompanies the donation with the following note :

“ From the correspondence of Don Pablo Jaurequin, who was Curate of Quiche from 1783 to 1794, it appears that, about a year before he left the curacy of Quiche, he repaired the church, taking for that purpose the stones from the ancient ruins of Utatlan, the old capitol of the Quiche kings.

“ Among the ruins he found, in very good state of preservation, what he calls a giant, which, as soon as it was discovered, the Indians at work began to cry (he says) and utter some peculiar prayers, saying it was the ancient god and such things. To prevent their returning to idolatry, he caused this stone statue to be brought to the Capitol and city of Guatemala, but the Indians for some cause defaced it on the way, and dragged it on the road several times, so that the priest Jaurequin gave up the idea of sending it to the Museum at Madrid, as he at first intended, and placed it at the corner of his house in May, 1794. In 1803, observing that some of the Indians from Quiche and Solola used to burn copal gum at night before the idol, he had it removed, and buried it in the court-yard of his house."

APPENDIX E.

TABULAR ARRANGEMENT
OF THE
VERTEBRATA OF NORTH AMERICA.

PREPARED BY
ALBERT H. GALLATIN, M.D.,
Curator of the Zoological Gardens.

The object of the following tables is to present a clear and concise statement, sufficiently accurate for general use, of the Vertebrata existing on the North American Continent.

No attempt has been made to refine on the classifications of Audubon, Holbrook, and Girard, although much has been done since the publication of their labors by Agassiz, Dana, Baird, Lawrence, and others.

From this table the Cheiroptera, the Reptilia west of the Rocky Mountains, and the Pisces east of the Rocky Mountains are excluded.

The authorities followed are Audubon for Quadrupeds and Birds, Holbrook for Reptiles, and Girard for Fishes.
